IT certainly looks as if the Stock Market this summer was accumulating enough ammunition for a considerable movement towards higher prices. The new facts affecting stock values as they come out week after week, all look in that direction. One railroad after another increases its rate of distribution to its stockholders. The weekly crop reports tell a story of excellent results and still better promises. There are indications that the lull in the iron trade is over and that the demand is overtaking the enormous rate of current production. There are very few flaws in the general business situation. If, consequently, prices do not go up, it will be because they are already too high; and it would be difficult to prove that such is the case. Certain of the best railroad stocks are, indeed, selling at figures which net a very low return to their owners; and large as are the traffic returns of these roads, they are not large enough to justify bigger dividends under anything like prevailing conditions. But a dozen stocks of this kind could be named in which there is room for a ten point rise; while the prices of the preferred shares of a number of different industrial companies should be good for an equal if not a greater appreciation in value. These preferred shares will sell on almost a five per cent. basis, as soon as it is assured that they will continue to pay their full seven per cent. dividends. Thus, while there may not be room for anything like the increase in prices that there was in July, 1904, it should be possible to effect substantial advances in many stocks without necessarily incurring the penalty of a dangerous reaction.

THE real estate market has at last settled down to a state of midsummer calm. The number of transactions reported is extremely small and their importance is smaller still. Nine out of every ten consist of flats and tenements, in which a certain amount of trading is always taking place; but the market is exhibiting no new tendencies. The demand for vacant lots remains meagre; and no indication is being afforded of the form which the activity will take place in the fall. In the meantime brokers are beginning to be very busy with the fall renting, and upon the results of this business the building operations of the coming season will largely depend. It is understood that renting conditions continue to be very satisfactory all over the city, and in all kinds of property. It is possible for landlords to increase rents still further in many instances; and there are no indications of over-building in any important kind of improvement. This fact assures another year of wholesome activity in New York real estate. The pace will probably be a little more moderate than it has been during the past season, because there will not be the same excuse for speculation in vacant land; but a diminution in the amount of speculation in unimproved property compared to the amount of building and investment operations will be a benefit rather than a drawback to the market.

THE approval of the plans for new rapid transit routes by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has passed almost unnoticed, but it is none the less a convincing indication of the desirability of the recent law, which took this business entirely out of the hands of the Board of Aldermen. The Aldermen would have consumed several months in approving routes, which the Board of Estimate confirmed in a few days. They would have tried to justify their authority by insisting on certain changes in the proposed plans, and, if their action up to date is any guide, these changes would have been all to the bad. The Board of Estimate, on the other hand, knows that the routes established are the result of years of consideration by experts and that every detail of the plans has been submitted to rigid scrutiny both by interested and disinterested people. It is generally agreed that the Rapid Transit Commission has laid out a group of subways which will stimulate competition among bidders and provide the city with improved means of travel along the most necessary lines. The time for consideration and discussion is over. The thing most to be desired at present is vigorous action, so that the city may reap the advantage of the new subways at the earliest possible moment. At best the legal preliminaries to the letting of a subway contract consume a long time, and are sufficiently precarious, and everything should be done to diminish them. The prompt action of the Board of Estimate gives the public some assurance that if there is any delay hereafter it will be a delay which is unavoidable.

Tenements and Dwellings in the Bronx.

THE Record and Guide has frequently commented on the fact that practically the only classes of buildings erected in the Bronx at the present time are tenement houses and frame dwellings. The local industries of the Bronx are not developing to any considerable extent. Very few factories are being erected and about the only business undertakings for which house-room is being provided are enterprises which are necessitated by the increasing population—such as small retail shops, places of amusement, storage warehouses and power houses. The population of the Bronx finds employment in Manhattan offices and workshops, even more than does that of Brooklyn, and probably nineteen-twentieths of this population is being housed in tenements. Five-sixths of all the money spent for new Bronx building goes into tenement houses, and a large part of the rest into frame dwellings. The number of brick dwellings now under construction will not house more than 1,000 people. It is no wonder under these circumstances that brokers and operators who are interested in Bronx real estate are beginning to wonder whether something cannot be done to make the character of Bronx building more interesting and more various. Some five hundred real estate brokers and business men have received letters from the North Side Board of Trade asking them to express some opinion as to the best kind of building which in their opinion the Bronx can hope to get, and it is stated that a very general sentiment exists in favor of more one or two-family private dwellings. The question is, however, not what people would like, but what is demanded by prevailing economic conditions; and it seems to the Record and Guide that, although there is room for a somewhat larger supply of one and two-family dwellings, the price of Bronx land and the character of the Bronx population will during the next five years demand an overwhelming predominance of tenement-house construction.

In a city like New York poor people are bound to live in tenements; and the increasing population of the Bronx is derived largely from the poor. The Bronx is now getting a very large part of the overflow from Manhattan, and this overflow consists of immigrants who cannot afford to pay more than the lowest prevailing rents. These rents are, indeed, high enough, amounting as they do to from $3.75 to $5 per room; but they constitute the cheapest living accommodations which the poor man can find, and he must necessarily use them. At the present time the class of tenement houses in which rents are lowest are well filled, whereas brokers are agreed that the higher priced flats have been over-built and contain a good many vacancies. People of this class will continue to constitute by far the largest fraction of the increasing population of the Bronx, and they will never be able to live in anything but tenements. By herding together and taking boarders, they are able to pay rents which are demanded; and they could not in any conceivable manner manage to pay for accommodations in one or two-family private dwellings.

Of course a certain proportion of the new Bronx residents consists of people who are able to afford a rental of $400 a year or more; and in other cities these people nearly always occupy detached dwellings. But in New York such is not the case. An inhabitant of Manhattan must be prepared to pay a rental of $1,200 a year, in case he wants a house for his own exclusive use; and there are very few houses, which can be had as cheap as that. A Bronx inhabitant can obtain a private house or half a private house for a good deal less than $1,200 a year, but he is obliged to pay so much more than is the case in other large cities that the number of people who can afford the price is correspondingly diminished. The trouble is that the scale of real estate prices is determined largely by the dominant type of tenement-house construction. Real estate which can be improved with tenements has a tendency to be more valuable than real estate which cannot be so improved; and property owners naturally hold out for the highest available prices. It is only property, consequently, not available for improvement with tenements, which is available for improvement with one and two-family dwellings; and property of this kind tends, of course, to be less conveniently situated than the higher priced property. Time was when the level value was established by individual dwellings, and tenements were erected only on real estate which was not available for individual residences. Now the level of value is established by the profit to be derived from tenement-house improvements and the builders of cheap private dwellings must put up with what is left.

These conditions would not apply if the Bronx were adequately provided with transit communication with Manhattan. In case for instance, all the different rapid transit routes now planned were actually under construction, and were to be opened some time within a year, then an immense amount of land, now comparatively inaccessible, would become equally available for improvement; and the level of prices could not rise so high that cheap private dwellings would be largely excluded. But the new subway does not open up so very much new territory. Its first purpose was to provide better communications for as many as possible of the existing residents of the Bronx; and its trains have been crowded from the start. The subway will, indeed, barely accommodate the actually necessary increase in population during the next five years; and the Bronx will have to wait for a long time before cheap one and two-family private dwellings will be erected in large numbers.

Real Estate in Other Cities
Generally in Good Form

THE Record and Guide has obtained reports from some of the principal cities of the United States, appertaining to the condition of the real estate market. Boston is the only great town where real estate interests are not regarded as wholly satisfactory. Otherwise the country seems to be full of good times, and in some typical cities real estate has not been in better form since the years immediately following the Civil War. New Orleans, representing the South country, and St. Louis the West, send particularly good reports.

Pittsburgh proper is enjoying an era of great prosperity. Alleghany real estate, however, is in an unhappy mood, because of the setback the consolidation movement has received. But the greater Pittsburgh is destined to become one of the most populous and one of the richest cities of the world. Tacoma real estate is about twenty per cent. ahead of last year's record in transfers, with ten per cent. representing the increase in value. In Buffalo business is better than in any year for a number preceding.

An astonishing increase is the word from Philadelphia, which is spreading out far into the suburbs. Springfield, Mass., Chicago and Jersey City all report great activity.

CONDITIONS IN PITTSBURGH.

Mr. Chauncey Lobinger, of the Pittsburgh Board of Trade, gives the following precise information concerning real estate values and building operations in Pittsburgh, for this year as compared to what the same were during the year 1904:

TRANSFERS OF REAL ESTATE RECORDED.

| Month. | No. Transfers. | Value for year 1904. | No. Transfers. | Value for year 1905. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| January | 385 | $2,044,500 | 539 | $4,217,360 |
| February | 499 | 6,047,700 | 508 | 4,178,200 |
| March | 742 | 4,036,400 | 760 | 5,371,200 |
| April | 575 | 4,465,300 | 609 | 3,890,000 |
| May | 498 | 3,854,300 | 611 | 8,991,300 |
| June | 511 | 4,682,100 | 575 | 7,268,500 |
| | 3,210 | $25,130,300 | 3,602 | $33,916,500 |

Increase in number of transfers, 392; increase in values transferred, $8,786,200.

Number and value of building permits granted for first six months present year of 1905 compared to what the same were in 1904:

| Month. | No. permits. | Value year 1904. | No. permits. | Value year 1905. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| January | 79 | $199,184 | 169 | $605,823 |
| March | 330 | 468,238 | 482 | 1,429,258 |
| April | 521 | 1,573,715 | 516 | 2,192,793 |
| May | 444 | 1,984,973 | 563 | 1,657,680 |
| June | 525 | 1,448,180 | 450 | 2,225,000 |
| | 2,087 | $6,105,515 | 2,364 | $8,499,871 |

Increase in number of permits, 277; increase in values of same, $2,394,356.

These figures apply only to the city of Pittsburgh. In Alleghany city the increase has not been so marked, but even there where real estate has been very slow to advance there has been an increase, owing largely to the movement which has been started to unite the two cities under a greater municipality, to be known as The Greater Pittsburgh, but as the bill making possible the annexation has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the State, the real estate market there has taken a slump.

In Pittsburgh downtown property there has always been increases in value, and especially around that section known as the "Hump," where sales are now being made daily at great advances owing to the fact that this portion of Fifth avenue and cross streets will no doubt be cut down, thus throwing the business section from the lower portion of the city out along Fifth avenue.

In the suburban real estate market a great many plans have been opened up, and all the brokers report large sales. Prominent among the plans which have been placed on the market are the Murray Avenue Plan of Lots, Brookline, West Liberty and others, many out-of-town buyers purchasing lots in these plans for investment.

In a general way, the above facts show what is being done in Pittsburgh real estate. There is no better investment any place than in Pittsburgh real estate, especially that which is known as business properties. There are a large number of apartments being erected throughout the city, and these all have proved good investments for the owners, netting anywhere from 10 to 25 per cent. profits.

CHAUNCEY LOBINGER.

NEW ORLEANS NEVER MORE FLOURISHING.

Mr. Fred Muller, Secretary-Treasurer of the New Orleans Board of Trade, gives a good idea of business in his town:

New Orleans, July 13.—The real estate situation in our city has never been in a more flourishing frame than at this time. Values, which some years ago were unreasonably low, have advanced in line with the immense commercial expansion of our city, and the building trade in general is experiencing exceptional activity. The influx of manufacturing enterprises, the construction of a Public Belt Railroad, the opening up of new sections to manufacturing and other enterprises, the anticipation of increased trade in conjunction with the construction of the Isthmian Canal, and the united efforts of our commercial community to further the prosperity of our city, are some of the features which assure a healthy and substantial situation from a real estate standpoint.

FRED MULLER.

ST. LOUIS NEVER FELT FINER.

Figures received from Secretary Sidney Schiele, of the St Louis Real Estate Exchange, show that the total value of sales for the first six months of the present year, $44,634,075, exceeded by more than two millions the total amount of sales for the whole year of 1904. The number of transfers each month of this year so far have exceeded greatly the number for the corresponding month last year. The same is true of the building permits. The total value of the buildings for which plans were filed last year was $14,075,794. For the first six months of this year the value of the buildings for which plans were filed was $12,320,025. Mr. Schiele writes:

We take great pleasure in telling you that St. Louis has never been blessed with a realty market like the one at present, nor has the building market been so good as the one that we are at present enjoying. Our Fair, which was the most magnificent, as you know, the world has ever seen, closed December 1st, and contrary to the prevailing impression business of all kinds has increased since the closing of its gates.

The municipality, on account of the Fair, expended millions of dollars for permanent improvements. It is questionable whether such an elaborate scheme of betterment would have been attempted had the Fair not been held. So much progress has been made in trade, in finances, in public improvements, in better standards and in a general betterment the last two years that St. Louis has admitted that our Fair has been worth the many millions and the tireless, unflagging labor which it cost.

These figures speak for themselves. It shows that the tendency of the average buyer and builder has been to await the termination of the Fair, fearing such an experience as Chicago had after its Fair. The result has been a market and an activity, as said before, such as St. Louis has never seen.

St. Louis is increasing in population, and it is expected that the ambitions of its "Million Club" will soon be realized with its million inhabitants. We are improving rapidly and real estate has had a natural and marked activity.

SIDNEY SCHIELE.

RISE OF VALUES IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, July 10.—I should say that in two years there had been an astonishing increase in prices of the central district; that is to say, within a few squares of the Pennsylvania and Reading R. R. stations. The Dundas property at Broad and Walnut has just been sold at about four times the value talked of for it some ten years ago.

The consequences are evidenced by a tendency for better class of dwelling houses in this district to be thrown on the market by owners to realize the advance, the residents either moving into suburban houses or going into apartments.

I have heard of no such increase in price on land used for our characteristic Philadelphia building operations, where four or six room houses are put up in hundreds by the acre. But residential suburbs are feeling effects of pressure from business centre outward; and in my own business I have occasion to note a large increase in demand for one-horse farms.

400 Chestnut street. EDWARD R. WOOD.

OMAHA REPORTS DIMINISHED SALES, BUT BUILDING WORK UNPRECEDENTED.

Values are not increasing in Omaha, but an immense amount of building is going on. George & Company, investment securities, of 1601 Farnam street, Omaha, write:

Omaha, July 13.—The real estate market in Omaha has not been very active for several years, and the actual transfer of property for the first six months of the present year was not so good as the first six months of last year. On the other hand, the amount of building being done in Omaha this year far exceeds the building done in any one year in the past.

There has been compartively little increase in the value of real estate generally over the city, although certain sections in the central retail district, also a small territory in the wholesale section and residence properties in certain sections in the northwest, and northern parts of the city have made a substantial increase during the past two or three years.

Prices generally, however, have not increased in Omaha as in many other cities of about the size of Omaha during the same period. Building operations are being carried on in all parts of the city, the old as well as the new.

GEORGE & COMPANY.

BUTTE-MONTANA IS NORMAL.

Secretary J. B. O'Brien, of the Business Men's Association of Butte-Montana, writes:

Butte, Montana, July 13.—The market is much more active than it has been at any time during the past five years. For the last three months, at which time the market opened, an average of about ten conveyances have been recorded daily at prices that are about the same as those that obtained four years ago, when the real estate condition of this city was considered normal. There are no new sections in the suburbs being opened up, but a number of the older buildings in the city proper are being replaced by new ones. J. B. O'BRIEN.

PRICES ADVANCING IN WHEELING.

Mr. R. B. Naylor, of Wheeling, W. Va., writes as follows:

Last year there were recorded 1,111 deeds, 588 being for the first six months. For the first six months of this year 737 transfers were made, a large increase over the corresponding period of last year. The prospects are that 1905 will greatly surpass 1904. Prices are going up in all kinds of real estate. To give you an idea of the price situation I may cite recent deals, in which a piece of property 33x126 feet on Market street, the principal thoroughfare of the town, sold for $35,000, or over $1,000 per front foot; piece of property, 25x66 feet on 12th street, another important business avenue, brought $30,000; a third deal, involving land 66x100 feet on Chapline street, in the residence section, but near the business district, which sold for $30,000, to be used for business purposes. In all these cases buildings which had been standing for some time went with the property, and new business blocks are planned to take their places. Naturally rents have risen with prices.

Quite a number of new suburbs are being opened up all around the city. Wheeling is so situated among the hills that further growth in the city limits is out of the question, and so our suburbs are coming to the front. Lots of about 50x150 feet are selling at from $400 to $2,000, according to location and are finding ready purchasers. Much building is going on in the suburbs, and our contractors and builders are busy.

The older parts of the city have been steadily improved and great improvements are now going on, the most notable being the Schmulbach Office Building on Market street, now in course of construction. It will be twelve stories high, and the largest building in the state.

From these facts you may see that the status of our real estate market is healthy and better prospects are ahead. This is a solid, conservative city, and the growth and progress we have made are founded on a substantial basis. Investors in Wheeling real estate have property of honest value which is sure to bring good returns.

R. B. NAYLOR.

QUIET IN BOSTON.

Frederick H. Viaux, Secretary of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, writes:

The real estate market in Boston has been abnormally quiet for the past four or five years, except in certain favored localities. The market has brightened perceptibly this spring, building is on the increase and the outlook is better.

In the financial and retail districts there have been many substantial improvements of late years, and these quarters are steadily appreciating in land values.

FREDERICK H. VIAUX.

SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) IN GOOD FORM.

Mr. J. Frank Drake, of the Springfield, Mass., Board of Trade, writes: There is great activity in building circles here this year; in fact, more building is being done than for many years. Two or three new sections in the suburbs are being opened up; one to the southeast of the city, one to the northeast, and still another to the west.

A new technical high school building is in process of erection in the very centre of the city, which, when finished, will cost between $300,000 and $400,000.

Tenements are renting very readily, and there is a fair market for moderate priced houses for single families.

J. FRANK DRAKE.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE IN DETROIT.

The Detroit Board of Commerce furnishes interesting figures showing the increase in building and in real estate values. The permits for new buildings, additions and alterations for the past five years, with the cost of construction, have been as follows:

| | No. of Permits. | Cost. |
|---|---|---|
| 1900 | 1,964 | $4,142,400 |
| 1901 | 2,764 | 5,977,400 |
| 1902 | 2,038 | 6,052,400 |
| 1903 | 3,383 | 6,912,600 |

For the first six months of this year the number of permits was 34 per cent. higher than for the corresponding period in 1904, and the estimated cost—$4,471,850—is 60 per cent. higher than last year. Few of the largest buildings planned for this year appear in these permits, though work on the foundations of some of them has already commenced.

In the business sections, particularly in the retail districts, land values are higher than ever before, with a continued upward tendency. Here are a few instances: Six years ago, 60 feet frontage on Woodward avenue, in the heart of the retail district, sold for $172,500; it would bring $300,000 to-day. A like frontage on the same avenue, two blocks farther up sold last week for $225,000; still farther up, a like frontage sold two years ago for $138,000, and a few months later was resold for $156,000. On the opposite side of the same avenue, on State street two blocks from Woodward, a building and lot sold two years ago for $49,000, a few days later for $55,000, and within a fortnight past an offer of $75,000 has been made for it and refused. Seven years ago, 30 feet on Monroe avenue, a street occupied by smaller retail stores, sold for $25,000; its rentals have been paying 10 per cent. on the investment. This property was sold a few days ago for $39,000. Similar advances are recorded on Miami avenue, which is changing from a residence to a retail street. In some of the residence sections, say from half a mile to two miles from the centre of the city, there has been a depreciation of values. From three to five miles out residence property is firmly held with increasing transactions but no rapid advance in prices. The surrounding country is level and the electric car service is excellent, so that purchasers have a wide range of choice. It is not easy to work up speculative values in any of the residential sections either city or suburban. The conveyances recorded have been as follows in the years named: 1900, 9,348; 1901, 10,233; 1902, 11,432; 1903, 11,682; 1904, 10,979.

For the first two months of the present year they were not above the average. Since then they have increased as follows: March, 1,079; April, 1,170; May, 1,277; June, 1,246.

STARR CADWALLADER,
Secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce.

TACOMA RAPIDLY GROWING.

Secretary J. S. Whitehouse, of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, reports a very substantial increase of business, with high prices, in the real estate market of Tacoma. The city is growing in a very satisfactory manner. Mr. Whitehouse says:

Tacoma, July 14.—The following are the number of transfers with expressed consideration for the years 1902-3-4:

| Year. | Number of Conveyances. | Expressed Consideration. |
|---|---|---|

The conveyances to date show an increase of about 20 per cent. and the expressed consideration an increase of about 10 per cent. Prices average from 10 to 20 per cent. higher than a year ago. Real estate is more active, and the full year will show a larger increase than that noted. The city is growing very rapidly and very substantially, and there is a great deal of confidence in real estate market and the utmost confidence that there will be a continued and substantial increase. There are no new suburbs or additions being opened up, but the city is all growing steadily. The city is being improved to a considerable extent with substantial business blocks. The business section has outgrown its former quarters and several new streets are now being used for first-class business, and fine buildings being erected thereon. As a whole we anticipate in the immediate future a greater growth than we have had in the recent past, and the last three years have been the best the city has ever seen. Street improvements to the value of two million dollars are under way, and will be completed during the summer. J. S. WHITEHOUSE, Secy.

Mr. Howard Mason, of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce writes:

Buffalo, July 14.—There is a very heavy demand for real estate in this city, not only for residential but for mercantile purposes. It would be difficult to furnish statistics for transfers this year in comparison with last, as no such statistics are kept. The agents, however, report better business this year than for a number of years, and the transfers for the most part are less of a speculative nature.

During the last two or three years properties which have been on the market at prices less than a fair value have been disposed of, so that at the present time valuations and prices are improving, and no doubt, during the next year or two, a considerable advance in value will follow, owing to the remarkable industrial development in our city. R. HOWARD MASON.

Chicago, July 14.—Notwithstand disturbances of operations caused by strikes, the building business, as indicated by value of buildings for which plans were filed, reached for the month of June, the highest figures ever recorded, $7,710,520, being 41 per cent greater than last year. Real estate sales have also thus far exceeded the business recorded last year, and is attributable to the natural growth of population, which required more house and building accommodations than had been provided in the previous year or two. Values show a healthy increase, but no undue inflation.

Walter G. Muirheid, of the Jersey City Board of Trade, writes:

The condition of the real estate market in Jersey City this year as compared with previous years has surpassed all records. The city is now experiencing an activity that is increasing daily. The prospect of the tunnels to New York City, the new million dollar County Park and improvements in the transportation facilities about to be made by the Erie and Lackawanna Railroad companies, the new High School and Court House, and many other features are proving strong factors in this increase.

The extension of the west side trolley line through a former unimproved section of Greenville has caused the incorporation of a new company of strong interests and a capital of $400,000, while more than a dozen realty corporations of smaller capital have been formed during the past six months. The latter proves that the city is rallying strong under this general wave of improvement, and the realty situation in Jersey City was never better. WALTER G. MUIRHEID.

—Fifty additional feet will have to be taken from the block on Delancey st, between Suffolk and Norfolk sts, for the Williamsburgh Bridge, and Delancey st for two blocks west of Clinton st will be closed. Plans have been in part prepared, and bids will be advertised for in September, for the new Manhattan terminal at the Williamsburgh Bridge. The statement is made on the authority of Chief Engineer Nichols. The Department has adopted the plan of Controller Grout and President Ahearn for an underground station under the plaza of the bridge, with enough loops to accommodate all the trolley cars and avoid the congestion which exists at present. The elevated train accommodation at the Manhattan end of the bridge will have to be reconstructed to permit the building of a tail and switch similar to the one which exists on the Brooklyn Bridge. Mr. Nichols says the cost of the entire improvement will be at least $1,000,000.

It Is To Think.

The following interesting story, written by Charles L. Benjamin, appears in Printers' Ink of the current week:

MAKING PEOPLE THINK.

The Broad Gauge Advertising of a Big Construction Company.

The Thompson-Starrett Company, one of the largest construction companies in the world, are using the advertising columns of the New York papers day after day—a thing no construction company ever did before—to impress people who have money to invest in buildings with the fact that what they call cost insurance is as necessary as fire insurance. Most New Yorkers are familiar with the short pointed advertisements put out by this company whose specialty is the building of skyscrapers. The Thompson-Starrett Company operate all over the United States, but their advertising for the present is confined to New York City. The story of the Thompson-Starrett advertising is interesting because it has demonstrated that newspaper advertising may prove as helpful to the man looking for a million dollar contract as to the man looking for a job.

A big man seated at a big table making a pen and ink sketch of a building was what I saw when I was ushered into the private office of Mr. Theodore Starrett, president of the Thompson-Starrett Company, 51 Wall st, New York. The big man was Mr. Starrett himself.

Building contractors as a class do not believe in newspaper advertising—except for other people. They concede that the retail merchant may be benefited by advertising, but the selling of a dollar's worth of goods over the counter and the securing of a contract for the erection of a sky-scraper are, they say, entirely different propositions. Mr. Starrett takes another view of the matter. "The people who have money to invest in buildings," says Mr. Starrett, "read the newspapers. I had something to say that I knew would interest every man that contemplated erecting a building, and the more money he intended to spend the more he would be interested in what I had to say. I didn't and don't expect anyone to sit down and send me a contract by mail after reading one of my cost insurance advertisements. The object of the advertising is to make people think, that's all—just think. The more hard thinking a man does before he signs a contract for a building the better it is for him and the better for the building trade in general. Irresponsible contractors have played the deuce with the building trade, and the man who has sunk in a building twice the amount he was told the building would cost him is apt to seek other ways of investing his money in the future. Cost insurance, which is the theme of all my advertisements, simply means that the man who pays for the building has a right to know, before a single stone is laid, just what the building is to cost him and how long it will take to complete it. We are prepared to make that kind of contract. There are other construction companies that will do the same. We don't pretend to have a monopoly of the cost insurance idea, though the fact that we alone advertise it has tended to create that impression, and has been instrumental in bringing us a good deal of business, so much so that we found it advisable to reduce our advertising from three times to twice a week, and have recently cut it to once a week simply because we have on hand now about all the work we can comfortably attend to. Nevertheless we shall keep pegging away at the cost insurance idea, because our object is to impress the man who intends to build with the fact that the only safe contract to make is one that absolutely guarantees the cost and limits the time of construction. Our advertising is really educational in its nature and benefits every responsible contractor. I have been hoping that some of the other construction companies would follow our lead and advertise in the newspapers, because the more publicity that is given to the building business the better it will be for those companies that have the organization and the capital necessary to enable them to guarantee their work."

This is the broad view of advertising; the conception that the function of advertising is not limited to selling goods but that it is an educational force. . . . I do not know all of the ways in which contracts for buildings are secured, but they are many and sometimes devious, and newspaper advertising has heretofore not been one of them. Mr. Starrett is the first in his line who disregarded the old methods of securing business and has gone straight to the public with a plain tale simply told.

"My theories about advertising—I haven't any," he says, "except to have something worth saying, say it as convincingly as you can and shut up. Our advertising has brought us a good deal of business, but we had to have something to talk about first—we had to have the organization that enables us to do business better than the other fellow."

It is probable that the Thompson-Starrett advertising will be increased this fall.

BUILDING NOTES.

Francis Boyle, a retired civil engineer, died July 11, at his home in New York city, from gas poisoning.

J. G. Holcombe, civil engineer, New York city, has been appointed Division Engineer for the Panama Canal.

The Monolith Reinforced Concrete Company has been incorporated at Albany Monday, with a capital of $10,000, for the purpose of doing reinforced concrete construction work of all kinds.

The oldest brick building in England, except those built by the Romans, is said to be Hurstmonceaux Castle, in Sussex, which was erected by Detiennes, treasurer to Henry VI. It was dismantled about a century ago.

Mr. George R. Wadsworth has resigned his position as Resident Engineer of the New York Central Ry. to accept that of assistant to the construction manager of J. G. White & Co., contractors, with office at 43 Exchange pl, New York city.

The Treasury Department on July 15th awarded to John C. Robinson, of Chicago, the contract for the interior finish of the new custom house in lower Broadway. The bid of Mr. Robinson was $1,037,281. He will give a bond of $520,000 to insure the faithful performance of the contract.

It is said that plans for the new Brooklyn Academy of Music, filed last Friday with the Building Department, Brooklyn, have been rejected. The discovery was made that there was an apparent violation of the code. The plans do not provide for an open court all around the theatre, as is required by law. This, it is believed, will be but a temporary hindrance, as the building is fireproof and contains more than double the number of fire escapes and exits demanded.

We call the attention of the building material trade to the advertisement of the Berkshire Lime Co., which appears in another column. This lime has no superior as a high grade finishing line and can be depended upon to give the best results; has been used by the best plasterers in New York and vicinity, and is strongly recommended by them. P. J. Heany is president, G. E. McLean vice-president and manager of the company. They are well known in the building material line. The company makes a specialty of carload lots to the trade. Yards and offices, Bronx River and 176th st. Telephone, 360 Tremont.

No architect has at this writing been selected for the sky-scraper to be reared on the site of the Tower Building and the two adjoining on the south. One of the two is a very old 4-sty structure, tthe oldest on the block. The most southerly of the three is an 8-sty pressed brick construction of very substantial nature. J. A. Simons, the secretary of the syndicate which has entered upon this enterprise, has an office in the Wall-Exchange Building. Francis N. Whitney, one of the directors, is at 71 Broadway.

Work on the new 6-sty temporary central station now under way at Vanderbilt av, Madison av, 43d and 44th sts, for the New York Central and Hudson River R. R. Co., is up to the roof level, and workmen are busy on the interior. The George A. Fuller Co. are the general contractors. The estimated cost is $200,000.

In Faille st, Bronx, one of the sections opened last winter, there are twenty 2-sty 1-family houses in process of erection. In Simpson st ten 5-sty apartment houses are going up.

Streets are being cut through a tract comprised in the former Hoe and Simpson estates, in the Bronx, by the American Realty Co., several hundred men being at work.

The property owners of Van Nest have formed a new organization to further their interests, which will affiliate with the Chester District Alliance.

"Wants and Offers."

The success of our Wants and Offers page of advertising is being fully demonstrated as the public auction market strengthens. Not only for private sales, but as a medium to attract attention to the judicial and other public auction sales, it is filling a long felt want. The change from absolute apathy to one of earnest and fruitful attention is steadily demonstrating itself in the public sales room.

A most notable example occurring within the past week has been brought to our attention. A property was contracted to be sold at private sale for $27,200. After the receipt of some half-dozen offers of an exact $27,000 at private sale it was necessary for the perfection of title that the property be brought into the auction room on a judicial sale under foreclosure of a second mortgage, arranged for that purpose. The sale was under a "called" first mortgage of $20,000, and it was so stated at the sale, yet bid by bid the price was raised through very general bidding, from an upset price of $23,800, the amount due on it in mortgages, to a final bid of $27,100, at which figure only the owner was able to get it in again with cured title. As will be seen, there was but $200 difference existed between the last bona fide auction-room bid and the actual selling price agreed to at private sale.

The owner has assured us that but for self-respect and a desire to fulfil his obligations contracted for at private sale, he would have let the property go at the last outside bid of $27,000, it being in the net results more advantageous than the price obtained on private sale by some $500.

This is but one of many instances showing the "drift of things," and the coming once more of a public auction market, which has not been known for the past twenty years, at which prices will be obtained that will be satisfactory to sellers and purchasers alike.

Real estate can only thrive when, like stocks and bonds, it commands a satisfactory "quick" price at auction. To advise the investing public, and to awake public attention to the good things offered, not only at private sale but at public auction, has been our object in establishing our pages of advertising matter entitled "Wants and Offers."

The Charles F. Noyes Co. (Lewis H. May Co., Arverne and Long Island, agents.) has leased for Mary L. Fraser the factory property located on Borden av and Dutch Kills creek at Long Island City, and know as the "Ritchie, Brown & Donald Factory," for a period of 21 years, from July 1st. The tenants will erect a modern factory at a cost of about $35,000. The lease carries with it the option of purchase. The property has a water frontage of 200 feet and an average depth of 600 feet. George J. Ryan, represented the tenants, whose identity is not disclosed by the brokers.

Conveyances involving the Tower Building at 50 Broadway and the adjoining properties to the south, Nos 44, 46 and 48, running through to Nos. 45 and 47 New st, owned by the New York Improved Real Estate Co., were recorded on Wednesday. The new owner of these parcels is the Broadway and New Street Co., recently incorporated at Albany with a capital of $250,000. The officers of the company are: President, Milton T. Duel, of Pittsburg; secretary and treasurer, James A. Simmons. Other directors are A. W. Lewis, of Pittsburg, and Francis N. Whitney and Andrew T. Morgan of this city. The properties taken together have frontages of 81.9 feet on Broadway and 79.6 feet on New st, with a northerly line of 159.10 feet and a southerly line of 104.5 feet. The Broadway and New Street Co. has mortgaged the properties to the New York Life Insurance Co. for $1,000,000 and to J. R. Weeks for $500,000.

Unequal Tax Assessments.

As the result of an investigation by the Comptroller's office, it has been found that property in the Bronx section has been assessed at as little as 6 per cent. of its valuation and that throughout the city the average is about 77 per cent. instead of 100 per cent. In no instance has it been found that the exact value of any piece of property has been determined by the deputy tax commissioners who are supposed to determine values.

A report from an expert accountant, through Deputy Comptroller Stevenson, acting for Mr. Grout, who sailed for Europe on last Tuesday, shows that if the Deputy Tax Commissioners had performed their duty, or had the knowledge of property values which would have enabled them to form correct estimates, the city's debt limit would have been increased $122,000,000. It has been found that while the property of many taxpayers has been assessed heavily, many other property holders have been getting off easy. Whether ignorance or mercenary motives are to blame will be discovered by further investigation. While certain owners in the Bronx pay taxes on less than 6 per cent. of the real market value of their property, others in various parts of the city are paying on estimates that prove to be more than 50 per cent. above the market value of their holdings. This disparagement in values is shown by the examination of parcels in Manhattan, The Bronx and Brooklyn.

In most instances the values fixed by the Deputy Tax Commissioners, Mr. Hervey says, have fallen 23 per cent. below the real value.

Suburban Work.

Many New York architects are not entirely pleased with the building situation. They say that considerable surburban work is being held up on account of the high price of materials. The cost of construction this year is much greater than formerly and this fact has its effect on the building market. Several, who had thought of a $3,000 dwelling, find that it will cost them nearly $4,000 if they build this year, and they decide to defer operations in the hope of obtaining better prices, another year. A number of new jobs are being figured and if the contractors' estimates are accepted it will mean quite a busy late summer.

The remainder of the conveyances and the mortgages for The Bronx and Manhattan mortgages that were filed in the Register's office on June 29th and 30th, will be printed in our next issue. The Manhattan conveyances are completed in this issue.

Test for the Mortgage-Tax Law.

Justice Giegerich, of the Supreme Court, heard this week arguments on the constitutionality of the new mortgage-tax law, and his decision is expected about September 1st. The case was brought by Michael H. Eisman, who through his counsel, Cahn & Lazansby, 267 Broadway, set forth that the New York County Register declined to record a mortgage because he refused to pay a tax of $14.35. A peremptory writ of mandamus is asked. On July 12 the mortgage was tendered to the Register for recording, with a fee of $2.45, the alleged legal fees for recording the same, and the Register declined to accept. The first point raised is that the act is unconsitutional because it violates Section 20 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State, in that the assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the Legislature shall be requisite to every bill appropriating the public moneys for local or private purposes. The act in question, it is claimed, appropriates public moneys for private purposes and is therefore void, inasmuch as the assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the Legislature did not assent to its passage. The act in question creates a state tax. It is not levied for any particular locality or localities, nor for any local purpose as such, although part of the money collected is appropriated for local purposes. In each county the recording officer is to pay over on the first day of each month the moneys received by him to the county treasurer or chamberlain. As to the city of New York, one half of the tax collected is to be applied to the reduction of taxes. "This is surely a local purpose," counsel claims. "By a reduction of taxation is meant, of course, an application of the funds to those uses for which taxes are levied."

A second point is that the act violates Article 14 of the amendments to the constitution of the United States, in that it deprives persons of property without due process of law. It is claimed that the act provides a scheme for the giving of notice and an opportunity to be heard to the owners of taxable property in so far as taxes that accrue July 1, 1906, and annually thereafter are concerned, but the act will be searched in vain for any provision giving notice of or opportunity to be heard concerning the tax on the mortgages which are offered for record for the first time.

Section 298 of the act provides for the computation of the annual tax for 1906, and thereafter Section 299 provides for the compilation of tax lists. Section 300 provides for notice of computation. Section 301 provides for a correction of lists, and Section 303 for appeals.

"It is necessary as a condition precedent to the right to record a mortgage," Mr. Lazansky says, "to pay the tax from the date of the mortgage to the following July. There is no proceeding or other investigation which the mortgagor may start in order to be heard concerning the tax which is required to be paid before the mortgage may be recorded. An opportunity is given for a hearing on the annual tax, so that one may show that the maximum amount has been reduced by partial payments, or otherwise, and how much, or that only a portion of the debt and obligation contemplated by the mortgage had ever been incurred. But no opportunity is given for a hearing as to the amount actually due upon the mortgage which is sought to be recorded for the first time. If a mortgage is executed today, and within a few days thereafter and before recording, a payment is made on account, no provision is made for proof of such fact upon presentation of the mortgage for record. No opportunity to present these facts and to be heard concerning them is provided for. This is an infringement of that provision of the constitution of the United States which denies to the state the right to deprive one of property without due process of law. The tax is arbitrary, and not founded upon any rule of equity or justice, and is, therefore, deprivation of property without due process of law."

A third point is that the act violates the provisions of the United States constitution, which provides that "No state shall abridge the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States and deny to any one the equal protection of the law." Section 308 of the act provides that any contract or agreement in respect to any mortgage obligation or deed of trust other than mortgage obligations and deeds of trust executed by corporations, by which the mortgagor shall agree or be bound to pay the tax, or any part thereof, imposed by this article, shall be usurious and void; and no judgment shall be obtained in any court of this state upon any obligation or mortgage subject to the tax imposed by this article, when it has been made to appear that there has at any time been an agreement that the mortgagor has made any payment in pursuance of any such agreement. Under this head Mr. Lazansky says:

"It is a fundamental doctrine governing the law of usury that the defense must be founded on a loan or forbearance of money. If either of these elements exist there can be no usury, however unconscionable the usury may be. The contract in question is not a contract on the part of one to pay the obligation of another; therefore it is in nowise connected with the question of usury. Nor has the Legislature the power to declare that to be usurious under this act which in nowise bears the taint of that name."

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follews: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

NOTHING has happened during the week to diminish the confidence which may well be felt in the immediate future of Stock Market quotations. The news continues on the whole to be encouraging. Of course as long as the wheat and corn crops continue to be open to damage, it will be possible to make raids upon the market, and it is improbable that any considerable rise can take place until the possibility of serious damage is past. But the action of the railway companies in recently ordering large amounts of materials indicates that the people who are in a position to know best expect a large business during the fall; and this very action has already decidedly improved the outlook in the steel trade. If this improvement should continue, and if the earning of the steel corporation should continue to be very large, it is possible that the preferred stock of that company, which is always a popular material for speculation, might lead in the market advance, and might sell between 115 and 120.

THE SUN makes the interesting point that the demand for a good class of private dwellings is being much better sustained during the current summer than is usually the case. This demand does not seek houses which cost from $150,000 up, as it did in 1901 and 1902. It rather prefers houses which cost from $75,000 to $125,000; and it comes not from Western millionaires, who are seeking "palatial" homes in New York City, but rather from old residents of New York, who have been able to sell at good prices houses which they have long occupied south of 42d street and who are using the money to buy new houses farther north. This description of the situation is essentially correct. The large demand for very expensive houses situated on Fifth avenue or between Madison and Fifth avenues has never recovered from the slump of 1903, because the financial losses of that year fell chiefly on very rich people. But people who are moderately rich and can afford to spend $100,000 more or less on their residences have been the people who have profited most, both from the recent rises both in security and in real estate values. It is they who are buying the houses on the East Side situated between Lexington and Madison avenues, frequently with the money obtained by the sale of houses situated farther south, and it looks as if a demand of this kind would continue to be active for several years to come. The speed of the business invasion of the residence districts south of 42d street is accelerating rather than diminishing, and depends upon permanent causes. The question is, whether the East Side between 60th and 90th streets and west of Lexington or Park avenues contains enough room to satisfy the demand. Many of the streets are disqualified by the character of their existing buildings and can only be made available by radical reconstruction. It looks as if such reconstruction would be inevitable in the course of time and that there was money to be made in purchasing houses in a neighborhood which is neglected at present, but whose location will necessitate its eventual improvement.

THE experts in the Comptroller's office are right in asserting that the average assessed value of real estate in New York City is very far from being as high as it should be. When the level of assessment was raised during Mayor Low's administration, the Record and Guide showed with some care that the average assessment was about 90 per cent. of the selling value; and considering the dubious element in all real estate values, the assessment for tax purposes should certainly leave a margin of 10 per cent. But since values have been increasing more rapidly than the assessments, and we imagine that the calculation of the Comptroller's experts' average of about 77 per cent. is an over rather than an underestimate. An inference to this effect is justified by the figures which the Record and Guide publishes every week. Thus, there have been since Jan. 1st, 1,145 conveyances recorded in which considerations were expressed, and the amount of money involved in these transfers was about $57,000,000. This total really represents the value of the property conveyed, because the great majority of these parcels were sold by executors and trustees, or under court orders. But the aggregate assessed value of the property, which sold for $57,000,000 was about $41,000,000 or only about 72 per cent. Facts such as these indicate that there is room for a careful revision of the official figures; and it is to be hoped that in the re-assessment now underway such a revision will be made. During the last year the most important increases in value have taken place in vacant property on Washington Heights, in the Bronx, and in certain parts of Brooklyn, and it is desirable from every point of view that the increased value of this vacant property should be fully registered on the assessment lists. When the city officials permit the owners of vacant lots to charge much larger sums for such property than the amount on which taxes are paid, the city is practically discouraging improvement. The result of the policy is to encourage the owners to hold out for higher prices, and consequently to compel builders to pay such prices. It is all very well to permit speculation in vacant land, but the city should not tax the man who is preventing the improvement of the city at a lower rate than it taxes the man who is spending his money in order to contribute to such improvement.

WHEN the level of assessed valutions was increased some years ago, a very general fear existed among property owners that the smaller tax-rate, that was brought about by a larger assessment list would not prove to be permanent. It was believed that the tax-rate would gradually return to a two per cent. basis; and that this percentage would have to be paid on the increased valuation. Well, there has been some tendency to increase the tax-rate since 1902, but the tendency has not been very marked, and the fact that a reduction has been effected for the present year should encourage tax-payers to believe that a general increase in assessment does not necessarily mean an increase in tax bills. In case such an increase takes place, it must under existing conditions mean administrative extravagance or mismanagement, the penalty of which should be visited upon the officials of the party which is responsible. Now that the value of vacant land on the outskirts of the city is being increased, the regular expansion in the assessed valuation of real estate should be sufficient to produce as much additional income as is needed, without any raising of the tax-rate. The only change in municipal policy which might legitimately mean an increase in tax bills would be the beginning of a system of municipal street improvements, which would not be directly remunerative, though the adoption of such a policy would in the opinion of the Record and Guide be very desirable and would more than re-imburse tax-payers for the increase in taxes. There is apparently no chance of its finding favor in the City Hall. All the other important municipal improvements, except school houses, should or do pay for themselves. But the proper adjustment of the whole business depends upon the work of the tax assessors. If they register the actual increases which are taking place in real estate valuations, the city should be able to obtain more income than it needs on the basis of the existing tax-rate.

THE DIFFICULTY which Brooklyn is having in widening the Fulton street tunnel in order to accommodate four instead of two tracks should be a warning as to the proper method of planning subways. The Record and Guide has never yet heard of a tunnel which was planned to be bigger than it need be; on the contrary they are always made too small, and have to be enlarged subsequently with great difficulty and expense. The necessity for enlarging the Brooklyn subway is appreciated even before it is in operation; and one of the great mistakes of our New York subway is the failure to four-track the Washington Heights section. It is only with a four-track road that an efficient combination of local and express service can be obtained; and in a city of long distances like New York such a combination is absolutely necessary. In Manhattan the difficulty of laying out four-track routes is very much increased by the scarcity of broad thoroughfares south of 14th street. Almost every one of the proposed new subways has been laid out along a devious path, and has been frequently divided in half, because there are no available avenues wide enough to contain four tracks. For this reason the new subway system should have been planned with reference to necessary changes in the street system. Both Sixth and Seventh avenues could be extended south at an expense which is still comparatively small. But owing to a division of responsibility, the Rapid Transit Commission has not waited upon the consummation of any street opening proceedings, and has gone ahead as best it could along the lines of existing streets. Doubtless the Commission was obliged to take this alternative; but the consequence will be a new rapid transit system, the operation of which will be hampered by devious and divided routes.

Some Aspects of the Business Situation.

DURING the summer and fall of 1903, while the prices of stocks were declining, and when everybody was afraid that the decline would result in a panic, it was the habit of newspaper commentators on the Stock Market to refer to the security prices, which had prevailed in 1902, as excessively high. The American financiers, it was said, had advanced the prices of stocks much more than was warranted by actual values, and had consequently brought upon themselves the crushing reaction, in which so many fortunes disappeared. The demonstration appeared to be convincing at the time; but subsequent events have shown that the financial judgment of the people who were behind the bull market of 1901 and 1902 was not so erroneous as it seemed to be in the summer and fall of 1903.

At the present time the prices of the active securities on the New York Stock Exchange are maintained at a substantially higher level than that of the highest prices of 1902. The shares of almost all of the dividend-paying railway companies are selling at a figure which makes them yield under rather than over four per cent. Steel preferred fetches a price which is several points higher than the highest it ever reached when the company was paying four per cent. dividends on the common stock, and yet no one feels any insecurity about the current level of values. On the contrary, it is confidently expected even by conservative people that prices will go still higher during the next few months.

Of course conditions have altered for the better during the past two years. During the summer of 1903 the country was experiencing a sharp business reaction; and at that time no one could tell how far that reaction would go. It looked at one time as if many prominent industrial companies would not be able to maintain the regular dividends on their preferred stocks, and that some of them would have to reorganize their finances. It looked, also, as if some railroad companies might have to suspend or reduce dividend payments. Confidence in the whole financial fabric had been shaken. At the present time, however, this confidence has been completely restored. It has become evident that the large industrial corporations can continue even in hard times to pay seven per cent. on their preferred stocks, and several important railroad companies, instead of reducing their payments to shareholders, have increased them. Such facts as these sufficiently account for the level at which the prices of securities is now maintained; but, we must also recognize, that these same facts justify the judgment of the financiers and operators who pushed up the prices of stocks during 1901 and 1902. It is apparent now that those prices were not too high, considering the value and the prospects possessed by these securities. It would be much truer to say that the intrinsic value of American dividend paying stocks was under-estimated in 1903, than they were over-estimated in 1902.

The fact is, not that values were over-estimated in 1902, but that securities had been created during that year and the year preceding faster than the investors of the country were prepared to absorb them. It was a period of industrial organization and railroad improvement, and the Stock Market was required to digest an enormous amount of paper in a comparatively short time. Mr. J. P. Morgan was absolutely right in asserting that these securities represented good value; but the price of a commodity depends quite as much upon its saleability as upon its use. The financiers who had manufactured these good securities could not sell them as fast as they wished. Either they or the people who bought them at the prevailing prices were obliged to borrow a lot of money in order to carry them; and when a selling movement started and prices began to decline, they were frequently forced to sacrifice their stocks in order to pay their debts. The error was made not as to intrinsic values, but as to the amount of paper, which the investment demand could absorb, and the penalty of the error was severe, because a business reaction set in at about the same period. No doubt the error, no matter what its character, was sufficiently serious in its consequences; but there is this difference, that whereas it takes many years for the business of a country to recover from wild speculative inflation of prices, the recovery from over-confident financiering can be and has been very rapid and complete.

At the present time the situation is entirely different from what it was in 1901 and 1902. The market, instead of being over-supplied with good securities, is not apparently being furnished with as much paper as it could wholesomely digest. What the difference is may be inferred from the fact, that, whereas during the first six months of 1901 stocks to the par value almost of $1,300,000,000 were listed on the stock exchange, the amount listed during the corresponding six months of 1905 was only about $360,000,000, and this total included only a little over $100,000,000 of railroad securities. Just at present the wealth of the country is, apparently, increasing faster than the paper in which it is usually invested. Business is yielding larger returns without any large expenditure of capital. In the matter of real estate values alone the increases have been tremendous in all the large cities of the country. The existing level of stock prices has not been brought about by enormous speculative buying on a margin. The testimony of well-informed men is unanimous to the effect that the commission houses are carrying very few stocks for their customers just now, and that technically stocks are what is known as scarce—that is they have been purchased outright by people who believe in their values. A situation of this kind naturally leads professional operators to expect higher prices; and the danger is under such circumstances whether the situation may not encourage a real inflation. The occurrence of such an inflation will, of course, depend upon the extent to which the owners of securities will sell, when prices advance; and no one can say how far they will take advantage of such opportunities. But at any rate experience shows that there is always danger of speculative inflation, when the wealth of a people is increasing faster than its ordinary business opportunities.

The Course of Building.

BUILDING BUREAU RECORD BROKEN LAST WEEK—HIGHER PRICE FOR BRICK—BIG WORK COMING ON.

More plans were filed in the Manhattan Bureau of Buildings last week than in any previous week of the bureau's history, which means the largest week in the history of old New York. It was in the year 1892 that the department was established.

There was some expectation a month ago of a falling off in building construction, owing to the alleged high prices of building materials, and still some predictions are heard that new work will not keep coming at this rate. Outside of the fire limits there seemed recently to be a basis for this idea. On one particular day this week the plans filed with the Building Bureau of the Bronx called for an investment of less than fifty thousand dollars.

Referring now only to Manhattan, the great amount of work now coming to the builders is to a considerable extent what might be called postponed work. During last year and the one before it was very well understood that many large undertakings were being put off, first and foremost because of labor uncertainties, and also because of the superstition against doing business in a presidential campaign. Since the peace settlements in the labor field in the spring of this year, some large works have been started, and these large units will continue to appear as the season advances. Even if building should ease up in the other boroughs, there will be enough doing in Manhattan to send most kinds of materials still farther up the price scale, in the opinion of practiced observers.

Hudson River brick values have again begun a vigorous upward movement. An advance of half a dollar a thousand wholesale has occurred within a fortnight, and is being strongly maintained. A regular, steady supply of brick is paralleled by a uniform demand. Earlier in the month there were days when the market was overstocked, and then days when it was nearly empty, a fluctuation that was due as much to the uneven requirement as to the uneven shipping. One powerful reason for the rise in the market for new brick is the lessening of the second-hand supply. Until now there has been a rather large stock of second-hand material in both Manhattan and Brooklyn. Early in the season many loads were noticed going from here to Brooklyn, but lately Brooklyn was sending some here. Just now they are neither coming nor going to any very noticeable degree, and builders say they are scarce.

Recently a teamster drove up to a building with a load of new brick. "You haven't got fifteen hundred on, and I shan't take 'em." "You're right, I haven't," retorted the teamster in an independent tone; "and if you don't want 'em you needn't take 'em; and if you do, you have got to give me another quarter." The builder took the short count and paid the extra price, because he was in a hurry and knew that others would take them.

It is fully expected by dealers that, with the new fireproof building work coming on, that quotations for various kinds of materials will have a higher range.

A Bronx architect, speaking this week of the cost of construction in New York as compared to the cost in other cities, said that, judging from his experience in a New England city, the difference was not very large, because New York mechanics accomplished more in a day. For example, he thought it would cost very nearly as much to build a three-story brick house in Hartford as in New York. He thought that the cost of materials, depending on supply and demand, would not for some years at least have any appreciable effect on the amount of building in New York, as the steady increase in population must be provided with shelter, and costs are ordinarily very quickly shifted from the builders to the tenants. Rapid transit to the neighboring towns would in future years be the determining factor, he thought, upon the amount of building here in the city.

Past and Present of Granite.

HOW ITS USE HAS INCREASED—PINK GRANITES IN HIGH FAVOR—IMPROVED QUARRY METHODS.

Like everything pertaining to the building business, granite manufacturing and the uses of granite has changed wonderfully for the better, and in the last twenty-five years. Any of the old timers of thirty or forty years ago would be greatly surprised if they could visit us now and see the difference. In the early history of granite in New York City there were only two kinds that could be marketed to any advantage—the old Quincy granite and that taken from the Millstone Point quarries in Connecticut. The latter was given the preference on account of being nearer, and also because it was a light colored stone.

The work at that time consisted mostly of low water-table courses, sills, mullion posts and the lintel course, with perhaps a small moulded course running around the top. Instances of this construction still remain on the lower east side. Other than this, about the only use granite was applied to was for bank vaults, of which there were a great many constructed from granite blocks about 2 ft. square of different lengths laid on each other, covered with a granite roof, and bearing blocks for wooden posts and girders.

Gradually the use of granite increased until we saw granite sidewalks and whole fronts. One of the buildings still left is the old Astor house, an early effort in this way. As iron began to come in use, heavy bases were used under cast-iron columns, and under the wrought beams were placed at each end heavy girder blocks. Gradually, as the use of granite increased, the varieties increased, and granite that is now being selected for granite work in the fronts of buildings varies in color from a white almost like marble to the very blackest of Quincy, with pink shades predominating. There are now used in New York some fifty or sixty varieties of granite.

The pink granites have seemed to become a fad, until the larger proportion of the granites used in New York are of this shade. That which has had the largest run in the market is the Milford Pink from the quarries of Milford, Mass., the Jonesboro running a close second. One of the latest pink granites to be given a share of the business is the Black Island pink, which combines with its color a fine grain and is better for carved or moulded work than the coarser grain granites. In place of the few pieces of granite that used to be found in the building, we have now beautiful fronts complete, as in the Post Office, the Hall of Records, the Custom House, the Schwab mansion, the Clark mansion.

The Clark mansion is probably the most elaborate piece of granite work that has been placed in New York. The carving has cost an immense amount of money and was all done by the day at the building. The columns in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine attract the attention of everyone. There is hardly a granite manufacturer or producer in the State of New York but what has undoubtedly taken a trip to the heights to see these, the manufacturing and setting up of which would have been deemed impossible only a few years ago. Taken as a whole, the change from the old condition of things to the present condition surprises every man in the business who looks back to his first experience in furnishing granite for New York.

Steel construction cut out all of the interior work that the quarryman once depended on for disposal of their discolored stone, but the fine fronts that have been used have increased so rapidly that the quarries have been able to throw away that which they once felt obliged to use, and by producing only a good grade of stone increased their earning capacity enough to make up for the loss of market which the steel construction cut out. Any casual observer passing through the streets of New York would not be attracted particularly by the evidences of the difference that exists between now and fifty years ago in this business, but should anyone feel interested enough to look into it, he would find that the advance has been greater in the granite business than in any other in the city of New York.

In the manufacturing of granite, the implements used were very crude, while at the present time all up-to-date manufacturers have pneumatic air plants and tools run by compressed air for the manufacturing of the finest work. A granite yard is an interesting spot and one which is visited by very few architects, whereas architects should, to understand thoroughly the good results that can be obtained in granite, visit and investigate the mode of manufacturing, and the simplicity and economy of using certain grades of granite. The beauty and durability all will concede. The price at which it can be produced allows it to compete with any other stone, provided that treatment is accorded it that it should have.

Mouldings and carvings in granite should never be attempted on the same lines in which marble and limestone can be manufactured. They should be bolder and more massive. A great many designs that are put on the market have too fine moulds and do not produce the heavy shadow which is the beauty of all mouldings. Soft stone will not stand the projections that can be given to granite, and in this particular especially granite should recommend itself for use. The present mode of cutting granite with the tools employed give this advantage over the old mode of doing, and some of our prominent architects have caught on to that fact and in the treatment of their buildings make their designs so that the beauties that can be drawn from granite are fully exhibited. The Pennsylvania Depot when completed will be one of the beautiful things of New York, the moulds, carvings, etc., in the design of this building being up-to-date and easily produced by the present modes of working. If the reader of this sketch feels at all interested in the subject, and would like to investigate the difference in the old mode and the present, of manufacturing granite, any granite manufacturer in New York would be pleased to have a call from him and to show him the way in which granite is now handled.

World's Fair For New York---Where Will It Be?

A move for a World's Fair, in 1909, in commemoration of the discovery of the Hudson River, has been definitely started under auspices that strongly promise a fine finish. A committee consisting of members of the Empire State Society, some of the American Revolution, American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, Hudson Tri-Centennial Association, the New York Society of the Order of the Founders and Patriots of America, Holland Society, St. Nicholas Society, National Arts Club, and Municipal Arts Society has communicated with Governor Higgins of New York, as well as with Mayor McClellan, requesting each of these officials to name a committee of fifty or more representative citizens to consider the plan.

The location of the Fair is only dimly foreshadowed. Various views are held, we understand. Up the Hudson River, in the Highlands between Stony Point and West Point, the people are saying they are to have the Fair there. Why they say this is not known, but they have undoubtedly heard things. Then, down at Staten Island it is being said that there, too, the Fair may be held. At Spuyten Duyvil can be heard similar rumors.

In somebody's mind is an idea to make the River the principal Street of the Fair, with the shore buildings on each side of the water from Staten Island all the way to Troy, but with the leading features concentrated at Spuyten Duyvil, the Highlands and Staten Island. But there is nothing definite to signal a real estate movement.

Work Ahead at Coney Island.

The tremendous success of the Boer War at Brighton Beach has done away with the experimental ideas of the Brighton Beach Development Company. Two million dollars will now be spent in constructing a mammoth amusement resort which will not only include two gigantic spectacles, but will embrace a number of sensations surpassing those now at Coney Island. A hall of permanent industrial exhibits will be one of the features on the Brighton Beach Pike, which is to be carried from the main entrance to the Boer War arena to Manhattan Beach. No admission will be charged on the Pike, which will be a mile long when completed. A three ring circus and an animal arena will occupy a portion of the seventy-five acres of meadow land now being reclaimed by the Brighton Beach Company. Captain Arthur W. Lewis has planned a national drama which will occupy twenty-four acres of land. Work will be carried on the new resort throughout the winter, when several hundred men will be employed.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit will build a new station and special lines connecting Coney Island with Brighton. The Brighton Beach Park will be a permanent amusement exposition similar to the St. Louis World's Fair. Venetian canals will course through the grounds. An electric and observation tower will form part of the great gateway at one end of the Pike. The new resort will be ready for the opening of the 1906 season in May.

The foregoing table shows not only the wonderful increase in building this year over any preceding period, but it also indicates the nature and individual cost of the buildings.

Five hundred frame dwellings have been planned, and the average cost of constructing them is $4,400. This is equivalent to saying that they will be for the most part pretty little dwellings, such as would have cost about three thousand dollars to build ten years ago in any place outside of New York—exclusive of the cost of the land. Five hundred dollars is the usual cost of a site in other towns, and twenty dollars or perhaps twenty-five in an exceptionally good location, is what such a house rents for. Under metropolitan conditions these dwellings will command much higher rentals. An unprecedented number will be built in the Bronx this year.

Of brick flats costing less than $15,000, plans were filed for only nineteen buildings, with a total cost of $210,000. Going a step lower in the scale it may be noted that the total estimated cost of the forty-two frame flats projected is $259,125.

TWO-FAMILY HOUSES.

A very notable operation in the Bronx is that of the American Real Estate Company on the line of the elevated division of the Subway, near West Farms. The company has 89 acres, or six miles of street front. The property is being improved by grading, curbing, sagging, flagging and piping the streets and erecting houses. It is planned to do two million of dollars' worth of work each year. The first contracts were let six weeks ago.

On Faille street the company is erecting from plans of W. D. Johnson twenty three-story two-family brick houses, each 20x53 ft., intended for the occupation of the owner in the lower part of the house, and for one renting family in the upper part. The upper parts, or flats, will rent for twenty-five or thirty dollars a month. The plans provide for what is essentially a separate entrance for each family. The company is also building twenty five-story houses.

Convention of Home Builders.

The delegates at the annual convention of the United States and New York State leagues of co-operating savings and building loan associations, this week, at the Murray Hill Hotel, represented about five thousand different organizations, showing how the system has spread. The total assets of the local building associations in the United States, the secretary said in his address, is now $600,342,568, which is a net increase for the year of $20,786,474. The total membership is 1,631,048.

Superintendent of Banks Kilburn addressed the league. He took the ground that with but few exceptions the so-called "National Building Associations" were a decided detriment. "I am happy to say," said he, "that in my official capacity I have gained their enmity."

At the last session the principal topic discussed was "The Tariff Tax on Homes." The author of the leading paper that was read declared that the national tariff on building materials seriously interfered with a wage-earner's efforts to get a house of his own. He said he thought that the man who should be paying $8 or $10 a month for his home was paying $2 or $3 more. Pennsylvania delegates held, on the contrary, that the protective tariff was, in reality, a benefit to the home builder. The subject was referred to a committee to investigate.

Other papers were, "Building and Loan Growth; Its Benefits, How Obtained," by L. L. Rankin, of Columbus. "The General Management," by Benjamin H. Jones, of Boston; "Fighting a Boss-Ridden Legislature," by Addison B. Burk, of Philadelphia.

The convention will meet next year at Cincinnati The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Frank D. Kingsbury, Corning, N. Y., President; Charles F. Bentley, Grand Island, Neb., First Vice-President; J. N. C. Shumway, Taylorsville, Ill., Second Vice-President; W. G. Weeks, New Iberia, La., Third Vice-President; Joseph K. Gamble, Philadelphia, Pa., Treasurer; Herman F. Cellarius, Cincinnati, Ohio, Secretary; J. W. Sutton, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Assistant Secretary.

Obituary Notes.

Harry Winchester Bailey died suddenly last Tuesday, the 25th inst., at Sound Beach, Conn. He was an officer and director of The Tuttle & Bailey Manufacturing Company, 83 Beekman street, New York City, succeeding in part to the interest of his father, Frank T. Bailey, who died in 1899, and of his grandfather, John D. Bailey, who died in 1895, and who was one of the founders of that company in 1848 and its president for many years.

Mr. Harry W. Bailey was a young man of great industry and business ability, and had been of signal aid in building up the already enormous business of his concern, which is the manufacture of hot air registers and ventilators.

He was not only an excellent man of affairs, but a good citizen, and his untimely death is greatly deplored. He leaves, of his immediate family, a wife and two children.

—An interesting job in steel sheet piling is being done for the Tribune Building addition, on the Frankfort st side, as close as possible to the old wall. The piles are of the standard pattern with webs ⅝ in. thick, weigh 35 lbs. per square foot and cover 12 lin. in. each. They are received in lengths of 13 ft. 4 in., and are driven until their tops are 1 ft. above the bottoms of the old footings. This carries the lower ends about 8 ft. below the lowest point of the new excavations and is considered far enough to prevent any danger of lateral movement of the sand beneath them. The soil is a mixture of sand and gravel. A steam hammer is used on the driving, which has not been a difficult matter, though close to the old walls. The foundations are being built by D. C. Weeks & Son, general contractors, and the piling by Miller, Daybill & Co., Inc., shorers and contractors, Brooklyn.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Status of New School Work.

Ten new school buildings and six additions will be ready for occupancy in September, when the vacation season will end. Five new buildings and four additions will then be ready for the Bronx; five new schools and one addition in Brooklyn, three additions in Queens, one addition in Richmond. There may be some variation in time owing to shortcomings of contractors. Superintendent Snyder reports the completion of school buildings Nos. 31, 106 and 110 in Manhattan, contracts involving the erection of buildings in two portions, since a part of the site was already occupied by the old school buildings, which could not be disturbed until the first section of the new structure was completed, the children transferred thereto, the old building demolished, site excavated, and the processes of construction gone through with a second time.

In the case of Public School 31 there occurred during the period of construction the death of the general contractor and three of his principal sub-contractors, necessitating delays until the executors could be appointed and affairs adjusted.

It is a grave question, Mr. Snyder thinks, as to whether or not it pays to attempt this method of erecting new school buildings in the endeavor to save to the Board the value of the old site and to rid the system of unsuitable buildings. He therefore recommends that such should not be followed in the future, unless in exceptional cases, it seeming much better to purchase property independent of the old building, leaving the latter undisturbed until the new school is ready, which will require less than half the time.

The record of buildings under contract would have been considerably increased had it not been found necessary by the Building Committee to direct that the plumbing work should no longer be let as a separate contract, but be included in the work of general construction. This step became necessary because of the constant friction and delay due to disagreements between the several contractors, and the further fact that the list of plumbing contractors seemed to be very limited, notwithstanding the promise originally made by the Master Plumbers' Association that if the plumbing be let as a separate contract the Association would see that the Board had a large number of good, responsible bidders.

To Build at Scarborough-on-Hudson.

The Worthington estate property at Scarborough-on-Hudson, comprising about eighty-eight acres of land, has been bought by Mary Alice Knox, head of the Briarcliff Manor School at Briarcliff Manor, on which large school buildings will be erected. When completed the Briarcliff schools will be moved to the new structures, which will command a fine view of the Hudson and Palisades. The property has been owned by the Worthington family for half a century.

At Phillips Manor, a little south of Scarborough, a large tract of fine property is being cleared and developed, on which it is said 100 high-class frame residences will be erected. A large force of men and teams can be seen at work grading, and leveling off the land, which slopes eastward from the Hudson and the New York Central Railroad tracks.

Washington Contract for the Fuller Company.

The committee appointed by Secretary Hitchcock, of the U. S. Interior Department, to secure bids for the erection of the new Freedmen's Hospital building in Washington has awarded the contract to the George A. Fuller Construction Company. The work will cost $277,300. The company will begin operations immediately. Mr. James Berrall, a civil engineer of Washington, has been appointed to superintend the work. Bids for this building were opened several weeks ago. There were eight of them, ranging from $467,700 to $389,793, the latter being the bid of the George A. Fuller Company. As there was only $275,000 available for the work, the committee took up the matter with the lowest bidder with a view to modifying the specifications to bring the cost of construction within the appropriation. Three important items, the nurses' home, morgue and stable, were eliminated, reducing the cost by $60,500, and in the other buildings cheaper material was substituted until the cost was brought down to $277,300, and at this figure a contract was entered into. The substitution of cheaper material, it is believed, will in no way affect the stability of the structure. It will be made fireproof throughout.

Bids for Library Wanted.

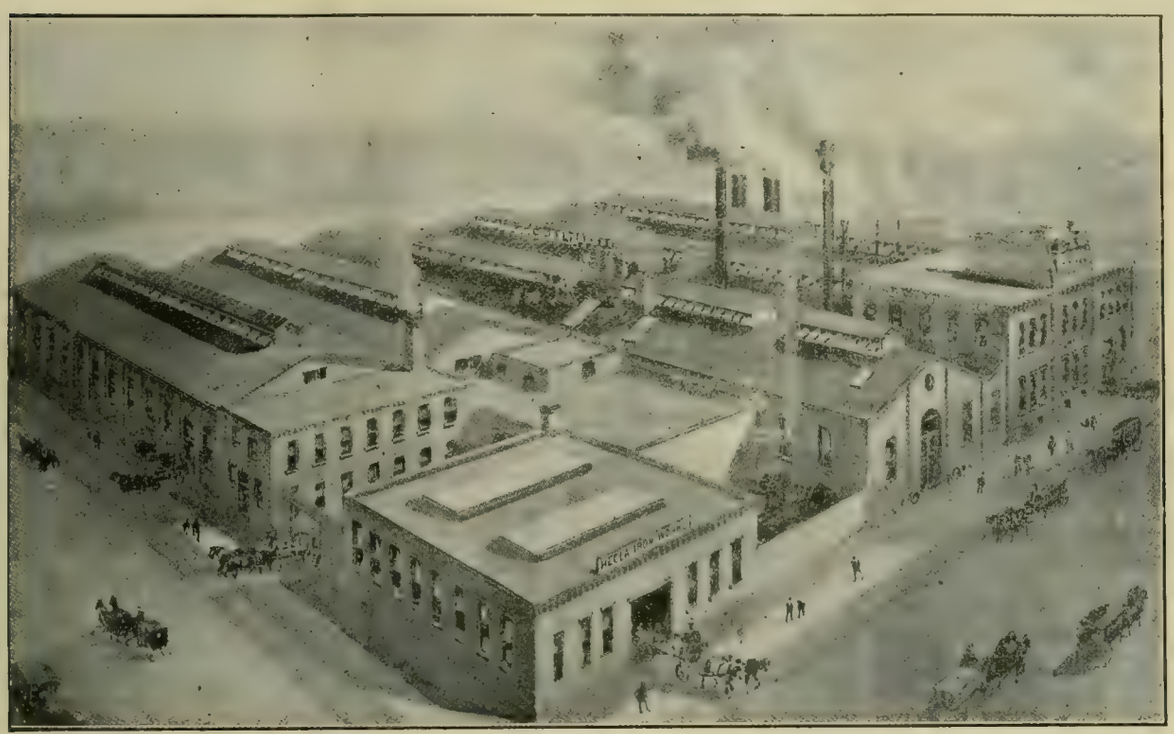
Sealed bids will be received at the Louisville Free Public Library, Louisville, Ky., until 12 o'clock noon, August 9th, 1905, for the construction of a public library building, at which time they will be opened in public. Pilcher & Thachau, will be on file at the office of the Building Contractors' Exchange in Louisville, and at the office of Pilcher & Tachau, 32 East 28th st, New York city.



Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for two per cent. of the amount of the proposal, made payable to John Stites, treasurer of the Louisville Free Public Library. Said check to be forfeited in case of the failure of the successful bidder to enter into the contract and furnish satisfactory bond within ten days after notification of the acceptance of the bid. Contractor will be required to furnish a surety company bond, subject to the approval of the trustees of the Louisville Free Public Library. Bids will be received as a whole for the entire work. The Louisville Free Public Library reserves the right to reject any and all bids. It will have a seating capacity of 1,240, be 5 stories high, and measure 75x125, containing offices and a bank. Of Moorish design, it will somewhat resemble the Casino. # BUILDING NOTES

The Architectural League of New York will do no further work till September.

Ex-Tenement House Commissioner Thomas C. T. Crain was presented on Wednesday last with an engrossed set of resolutions and a silver loving cup from the force of the Tenement House Department, who served under him. The presentation was made by Deputy Commissioner John F. Skelly. The entire number of some 400 employees signed the resolutions.

The Perfect Safety Window Guard Co., Park Row Building, New York, has obtained the contract to equip the windows of Mr. Frank Munsey's newspaper building at Washington, D. C., with device for protecting outside window cleaners against accident by falling when they are cleaning the windows. This company also had the contracts for equipping the windows of the Trinity Building, the Belmont Hotel and Sixty Wall Street Building.

Something New in Windows.

A device that promises to do away with the present rather cumbersome and entirely old-fashioned mechanism of an ordinary window-sash balance is now on exhibition in Room 703 of the (New) Times Building. The device is the invention of an Australian architect, and is so good that Mr. Alexander Knox, a director of the firm that manufactures it in Australia, has come all the way from that distant land to show it to the world at large. Mr. Knox stopped off long enough in London to show it to the architects and builders of that city, where it met with the warm approval of the professional and the public press. The Daily News of London spoke of it thus:

"It is curious that while so much improvement has been effected in recent years in almost every branch of building and sanitation, windows are still hung in the old-fashioned way. Some time ago a young architect in Australia devised a scheme for window balancing which he applied to his own home. Its most striking point is its simplicity; it does away with the necessity for boxframes, sash cords, weights and pulleys. By means of a handle the bottom half of the window is pulled forward, an action which sets the top half back, so that, where the two halves of an ordinary window meet, there is an open space admitting air in an upward direction. The window sashes are closed top and bottom, but open in the middle. By pulling the bottom half upward the top half descends, so that the window is open top and bottom. The effort necessary to open and shut the window is so slight on account of the two halves balancing each other that a window weighing 75 lbs. can be opened and shut with the greatest ease. Windows are reversible for cleaning."

Since the device has been on exhibition in New York many architects have examined it and pronounce it a decided improvement over the old sash cord and pulley weight style of window balance.

"Tile for Everywhere and Anywhere."

The Trent Tile Co., of Trenton, N. J., are makers of all kinds of tiles. Their "Della Robbia" glazes are very beautiful and are entirely novel. Send to Department C for brochure showing pictures in colors.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

William F. Koch has succeeded the firm of McMillan & Koch, real estate brokers and agents, with offices at 2753 Broadway, near 106th st.

The Ruland & Whiting Company leased for Peter Banner to a client the store, basement and sub-cellar of No. 648 Broadway, for a term of years at an aggregate rental of $99,000.

The partnership heretofore existing between Nathaniel S. Hyatt and John P. Hobbie, under the firm name of the "Abram Hyatt Company," with offices at 503 Fifth av, Manhattan, and 141 and 143 Main st, Ossining, N. Y., has expired by limitation. Mr. Hobbie will continue the business at 503 Fifth av.

Christopher E. Way and Harry Brady, formerly of the office of Joseph P. Day, well-known auctioneer, have formed a partnership and have opened officers in the Appell Building, at 23d st and 9th av, where they will carry on a general real estate business.

The only pleasant color in the market now is the inquiry for private dwellings, such as can be bought for seventy-five or a hundred thousand, and preferably in the middle of the East Side. "Where does this inquiry come from?" is asked. A good share of it is from downtowners desirous of getting away from the bustle of retail trade that has crowded upon them. A broker said he had not observed any special inquiry for dwellings of high value, such as was very marked two and three years ago.

The McVickar, Gaillard Realty Company has formed a syndicate, backed by Meyer R. Bimberg, which is to take over Edward R. Thomas's lease on the property at the northwest corner of Broadway and 45th st, fronting about 85 feet on Broadway and 148 feet on the street. The new company will begin at once the erection of a 5-sty theatre and office building. The lease is for a period of 18 years with a privilege of two renewals for 21 years each. The amount involved in the transaction is about $800,000.

—The Mayor of a boss-ridden town in New Jersey is opposed to street-cleaning as quite useless. Replying to a request from the residents of one of the principal business streets for the regular cleaning of the thoroughfare, he said:

"It would establish a bad precedent. If Colden street were kept clean, residents in other streets would expect their thoroughfares to be kept clean also. Besides," and here is an argument that knocks the philosophy out of all kinds of purification, personal, municipal and political—"if Colden street were cleaned it would only get dirty again, and would have to be cleaned over."

Rapid Growth of Queens Bo[illegible]

During the first six months of this year pla[illegible]e st[illegible]y for 1,314 buildings in Queens Borough, to cost, with plumbing, $5,356,094. The total for the entire year 1904 was 1,921 buildings; cost, including plumbing, $8,584,106. As the filing of plans is usually heavier in the fall than at any other time of the year, it is predicted that the total for the entire year will exceed 4,000 buildings, to cost over $11,000,000.

Almost the entire list this year thus far comprises dwellings and tenements telling unmistakably of the trend of population from the overcrowded sections of Manhattan.

The assurances that the Blackwell's Island Bridge is to be a thing of the future if it is not showing much progress is inducing many people to look to Queens for homes. While Newtown, especially the sections in the vicinity of Ridgewood and Corona, are building up rapidly, there is also a healthy activity being manifested in Long Island City real estate and particularly throughout Astoria.

A well-known real estate operator in Long Island City said: "The investment of money in Long Island City by New York capitalists means much for its future. For almost the last half century wealthy residents of New York would have nothing to do with this place. There was nothing to attract them to induce them to buy. The streets were unimproved, there were but very few sewers, no water mains, and very little illumination of the streets. The credit of the old city, too, was bad, and it was hard to realize even par value for the bonds authorized by law and secured by the real estate of the community to meet legally incurred indebtedness.

"Now all this has been changed; under the progressive local administration of the past two or three years; streets in every direction in Long Island City have been improved and the good work is steadily going on. Sewers have been laid, water mains introduced and the streets are well lighted. Buildings as a result of these improvements are being erected in every direction and the constant inquiry for accommodation from families who are anxious to live in Long Island City justifies the belief that in a few years this entire section of Queens will rival the Bronx in the scope and character of its development and internal progress. What is needed, however, to encourage and aid in this direction, is the speedy completion of the bridge. That will ensure rapid and uninterrupted communication with Manhattan and the Bronx, and the quicker it is finished the better it will be for Queens."

Specifications for Manhattan Bridge.

The specifications for the new Manhattan Bridge were issued this week, in the form of a 92-page pamphlet, accompanied by a portfolio of drawings. About 42,000 tons of steel will be required for the anchorages and superstructure. To this is to be added 18,700 pounds of bronze, 25,200 pounds of zinc and 28,000 pounds of lead. For the towers 930 cubic yards of concrete are called for.

Some clauses from the specifications, which are very rigid, are these:

All structural steel, excepting that to be used in the architectural work, ladders, gratings and such similar minor details as the engineer may specifically exempt from the exclusive use of such steel, shall be made in an open hearth furnace lined with silica.

The stock from which the rolled carbon is made shall consist of pig iron, or of washed pig, or of a combination of both. Acid open hearth scrap resulting from previous heats for this work may be used in quantities not exceeding 25 per cent.

No stock used in the open hearth or the washing furnace shall contain more than 0.10 of 1 per cent. of phosphorus or more than 0.04 of 1 per cent. of sulphur.

Full sized sections of eye bar material shall bend cold about a rod of diameter equal to twice the thickness of the bar.

Nickel rivet steel shall contain not less than 3.25 per cent. of nickel and not more than 0.035 of 1 per cent. of phosphorus, nor more than 0.03 of 1 per cent. of sulphur.

It is specified that steel castings shall be made in an open hearth furnace lined with silica; that at least one-third of all stock used shall be pig iron and that all scrap shall be of a quality satisfactory to the engineer.

Acid open hearth steel is specified for the wire for cables, suspenders and hand ropes, and the wire for serving the cables is required to be made of Norway iron.

Bids for "furnishing the metal work for the anchorages and constructing the towers, cables, suspenders and suspended superstructure" will be opened by the Commissioner of Bridges at two o'clock on August?

—The amended route of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railway Co. having been approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the City and County Contracting Co., which has the general contract for building the whole road, will, within the next few days, advertise for competitive bids.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follews: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

July 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27.

WHEN a man once understands that "Taylor Old Style" tin would have prevented his roof from giving out in so short a time, he wi l always have a grudge against the metal worker, architect or builder who did not recommend "Taylor Old Style."

EVERY week which passes without any serious damage to the crops is a substantial gain and tends to assure the business outlook for the coming year. The week now ended was a period of good news and increasing confidence; and this confidence was reflected in the movement of the stock market. There was no considerable or uninterrupted advance; but nearly all the alterations in prices were for the better. The most encouraging aspect of the situation is provided by the larger purchases of steel rails and cars by the railroad companies. It is purchases of this kind which are chiefly responsible for the firmer tone of the iron and steel markets, while they also indicate that the managers of the companies whose information is of the best, anticipate a much larger traffic this fall, for which provision must be made. At any rate, between the demand for steel on the part of the building industry and this demand on the part of the railroad industry, the prospects are that the steel manufacturing business will be busy throughout the remainder of the current year. And such prosperity is an indispensable condition of any further rise in the price of securities. There is not much room for higher prices in the cases of the majority of railroad stocks; but there is room for an advance in the prices of certain of the leading industrials. If any considerable bullish movement gathers force during the next few months, it will be concentrated chiefly upon these industrials who have pulled through the period of bad times in a thoroughly sound condition.

ABOUT the only occurrence in real estate during the past week of any importance was the lease of the former Criterion Hotel to Park & Tilford; but this lease has several different points of interest. In the first place it puts another of the small hotels of that part of Broadway out of business; and it pretty well indicates what will become of all of them. The small hotel cannot compete effectively with the big hotel, even for the trade of the Broadway crowd. The success of the Hotel Astor has cut into the business of all the other hotels and restaurants of that vicinity; and the owners of the Knickerbocker are spending a good deal more money than they originally intended in the finish of their building, so as to make it attractive enough for its location. The consequence will be that the other small hotels, which were built in this vicinity fifteen years or more ago, will be forced out and their sites will in the course of time be occupied by business buildings of some kind. The leasing of the Criterion Hotel by Park & Tilford implies, of course, that they have abandoned their designs upon the Tabernacle property on Greeley Square. Even if such is the case, however, there is certainly room for a large retail grocery store on or near that square, because such a shop could do a large business with the residents of Long Island and New Jersey, which will within the next few years be landed in those parts by the several railroad companies. Apart from this lease, the business has been confined to the usual trading in flats and tenements. As to the state of local building, that is rapidly getting into the condition by which it was characterized in the spring of 1902. People are complaining of high prices for materials and slow deliveries. Neither is there any sign of slackening. The structural steel companie report a large amount of business in sight for the coming fall.

EVERYONE who is interested in the slow but difficult task of making New York a better city in which to live, will rejoice in the decision of Mr. Jerome to run again for the office of District Attorney. In that office he is the right man in the right place; and he has deserved re-election at the hands of the voters of this county. He has not accomplished all that he started out to accomplish, and a good many of his pre-election promises make curious reading when compared with his actual achievements. But such discrepancies need not trouble anyone but his enemies. They do not affect the essential facts that his office has been competently managed during his incumbency, and that he constitutes a figure of unique and great importance in the public life of New York City. He is the one prominent politician who is not afraid to tell unpalatable truths. There are plenty of intelligent, competent and incorruptible men holding or seeking office; but the tongues of all of these men are tied. Either political or personal affiliations makes it impossible for them to be candid in their public utterances; and there is no purgative dose, of whic the public of this city is more in need than that of candor. Mr. Jerome represents the common public interest, as he understands it, both in his actions and his words. He deserves the support of all public-spirited citizens irrespective of their party ties. The method whereby his candidacy has been announced is a sufficient indication of his independence. He does not wait until the several parties have had their conventions and nominated their candidates. He announces that he will run in any event, and that the party machines can take him or leave him just as they please. He is sure to receive the support at least of the Citizens' Union; but he will poll a good deal more than the ordinary vote of the Union. Indeed, one of the most interesting results of his canvass will be the indication which it will afford of the really independent vote of New York County. Mr. Jerome should certainly come very much nearer to election than the other anti-Tammany candidates.

WHATEVER the outcome of the recent scandals in connection with the crop reports, issued by the Agricultural Department, it would be a grave mistake for the Government to discontinue the service. A number of newspapers have been claiming that the supplying of a service of this kind is entirely outside the province of the National Government; but such objections are merely irrelevant. The Constitution declares that the National Government was organized in order to promote the welfare of the American people; and we imagine that the issuing of crop reports can be included under that comprehensive heading. There are certainly very few services which would be of more benefit to more people than the regular publication of accurate reports about the condition of the important crops, their acreage and the probable yield. Such reports are of comparatively little use to the speculator, but they are of the greatest use to the small buyer or purchaser of grain and cotton. What the speculator needs is private information so that he can tell in advance of other people, whether the existing level of prices is too high or too low. Information which he shares with all the world is of comparatively little use to him, except in so far as he can draw from such information shrewder inferences. But this public information is just what the farmer or the cotton manufacturer needs. No doubt he, too, would like to have private information; but the government reports serve his purpose very well—provided they are accurate. The one thing necessary is that they be more accurate than the estimate of individual experts can be, and that they be above suspicion. To issue reports which are less accurate than the estimates of experts, is merely to betray the producer and consumer into the hands of the speculator. But there is no reason why the Government reports should not be nearer to the truth than those of any expert, although one may doubt whether such will be the case as long as the existing Secretary of the Agricultural Department retains his office.

MR. JAMES J. HILL, who is certainly one of the most intelligent of American millionaires, has been relieving his mind recently of certain comments on contemporary American business conditions. He thinks that "there are too many hampering influences on commerce from governmental and individual quarters," that "individual effort is restrained by political theorists and demagogue leaders," and "that five or six years hence this country will deplore the present policy of political interference, locally and nationally." The "hampering," "restraining" and "interfering" influences, which Mr. Hill deplores can only be those which are the result of the agitation against trusts, combinations and large corporations, and we doubt very much whether five or ten years hence the country will regret this agitation. On the contrary unless all signs fail the agitation will increase rather than diminish in intensity, and it will only be abandoned when public opinion is convinced that public interests are properly safeguarded by the automatic operation of general laws. It is undoubtedly true that there is much in the current anti-trust agitation, which is unwise and harmful, just as there is much in the existing anti-trust legislation which is stupid and ineffective. The Sherman anti-trust law, for instance, strikes blindly at industrial combinations, and is an admirable instance of what anti-trust legislation ought not to be. Nevertheless the idea which prompts this agitation is a wholesome idea. A large body of public opinion is coming to believe that the larger industries of the United States have been insufficiently regulated in the past and that the result of this insufficient regulation has not been altogether harmonious with the public interest, and this body of public opinion will keep on seeking some effective means of regulation—even if business is hampered thereby. It is evident, furthermore, that such regulation cannot be effective unless it is placed in the hands of the national government; and the best service which men like Mr. Hill could render both to their associates and to their country would be to co-operate with the people who believe in moderate regulation for the purpose of framing a national corporation law which would leave corporations whose business is honestly and fairly conducted comparatively unhurt, but which would "restrain" undesirable combinations. Disputes will arise as to what constitutes undesirable combinations, but there can be no question that all combinations are undesirable, which try to cover up inefficiency and extravagance by the suppression of competition.

Allied Real Estate Interests.

A STATE CORPORATION FORMED TO PROMPT CONCERTED ACTION IN NECESSARY MATTERS.

The enactment into law of the Mortgage Tax bill has had one good effect, as it has crystalized sentiment throughout the state in favor of a permanent organization to protect real estate interests. Attention has been called in these columns to the need of such an organization to meet successfully the continual menace of adverse legislation. Experience has shown that except in few instances public sentiment cannot be effectively aroused by the efforts of organizations that are only temporary in their formation and whose aim is to prevent the passage of certain specific legislation.

An exception, however, should be made in the case of the Allied Real Estate Interests, which was organized last spring at the time when the Mortgage Tax bill was before the legislature. This organization succeeded by energetic and well-directed efforts in arousing a strong sentiment throughout the state in opposition to the proposed legislation, the force of which was felt not only by the legislature, but was recognized by the Governor, who stated in his memorandum approving the bill: "The Allied Real Estate Interests have been well organized against this measured, and have doubtless been effective in developing hostility to the bill."

A corporation has just been formed under the name of "Allied Real Estate Interests of the State of New York." Its purposes, as set forth in the certificate of incorporation, are as follows: To promote the passage of laws beneficial and equitable to owners of real estate, to oppose the enactment of legislation detrimental to such interests, to secure an equitable and uniform system of taxation, to collect and diffuse accurate and reliable information relating to real estate, and to promote concerted action by owners of and others interested in real estate in the State of New York concerning all matters affecting their interests.

With a permanent organization such as this, representing every section of the state, far greater results can be accomplished than by any local or spasmodic effort along similar lines. The progress of this movement will be watched with keen interest, and the new organization should receive the hearty support of all those who are in any way interested in protecting the real estate interests of this state.

An Example of the Venetian.

When the facade of the new Wetzel building, at 24 East 44th st, was uncovered by the workmen this week one of the prettiest pieces of architecture in the city was disclosed. It is considered the first real example of the true Venetian we have yet obtained. Other buildings there are that have some of the forms and details of the Venetian, but they are not true in general treatment. The Venetian style of architecture is a peculiar interpretation of the Gothic; indeed, a mixture of the Gothic and Byzantine.

Mr. Wetzel, the owner, is a tailor, evidently a gentleman of both fine taste and wealth, and he will use part of this new building for his business; and we fancy he will do a large business because of the beautiful building he has erected; and though this is a business building in fact, it is not so in design, as there is no store front and no windows intended primarily for the display of goods. It is, on the contrary, of pure residential design, and it certainly will not be disfigured by a signboard. The charm of his building is almost as much in the color scheme as in the forms the architect has chosen. Mr. Hill is evidently a colorist. His modeling is rugged and simple, as the character has been put into the masses rather than into the detail. In Venice there is color in everything, though color is by no means everything In this Wetzel building old chromes and soft reds are enlivened by old greens and blues, and taken with the graceful forms employed there is presented a very characteristic Venetian building.

The principal materials employed are common brick, terra cotta and Moravian tiles; brick for the central part in diapered patterns, as in the Ducal palace in Venice; terra cotta for the general work; tiles for the balcony, which is an exact reproduction of the balcony on the house of Desdemona. The base course is of Federal Hill granite, which has a striation almost like marble.

Within, there is a reception-room with stone walls and vaulted ceiling, and a salesroom, seventeen feet high, having a covered gallery at one end. The woodwork will have a fine Flemish oak effect. Hill & Stout, of 1123 Broadway, are the architects. Dimensions of building, 45x61, five stories; estimated cost, $100,000.

Paving White Plains Road.

The opening and improving of White Plains rd is the most expensive improvement that has been undertaken in recent years in the Bronx, except the construction of the Grand Boulevard and Concourse. The regulating and grading, which has been completed, cost $400,000. The local board of Chester has now recommended that the road, from Morris st to the city line, be paved or repaved, as the case may be, with asphalt blocks on a concrete foundation, the cost to be apportioned between the city, the property benefited and the railroad company occupying the street.

For a while there was a disagreement as to what share of the expense each party should bear. The Engineering Bureau suggested that 21 feet of the 60-foot standard width of roadway to be paved be assessed against the railroad, and the remaining 39 feet be divided equally between the property owners and the city. Engineer Nelson Lewis, of the Comptroller's office, has been inquiring what portion, if any, of the present street was originally improved at the expense of the property owners, so that a portion of the work at least could be considered as repaving.

He has been assured that the White Plains rd was macadamized under the provisions of chapter 819 of the Laws of 1868, and he finds from the minutes of the Board of Supervisors that on November 15 and December 2, 1869, and on November 23, 1870, provision was made for the levying and collecting of sums aggregating $35,215 as part of the principal and interest on bonds issued for the carrying out of this improvement. This indicates quite clearly that the old White Plains rd was improved at the expense of the property owners, and that, following the precedent established by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in the case of the Southern Boulevard, the city can properly assume the cost of repaving the portion already paid by assessment. It seems clear also that the Union Railway Co., which has a double-track railroad in White Plains rd, is obliged to pay for the paving between its tracks and rails and two feet outside the same, as the special provisions of the charter of this company which appear to exempt it from the cost of any original paving do not relieve it from the expense of repaving.

Upon the recommendation of Engineer Lewis, therefore, the Board of Estimate has decided that 30 per cent. of the cost of the work shall be borne by the city, and 70 per cent. assessed upon the property deemed to be benefited. The estimated cost is $290,300, and the assessed value of the real estate within the area, $2,478,760. The Department of Water Supply has contracted for a 20-inch main in this street, and gas mains will also be laid before the paving is done. The sewers have all been built except for the one block between East 208th st and Morris st.

Obituary Notes.

In the recent railroad wreck, at Mentor, Ohio, there was taken from an unusually large field of usefulness a man whose loss will long be felt, Herman Clark Mechling. Mr. Mechling was born in Pittsburg, Pa., in 1855, and was for twenty-five years connected with the Wheeling Corrugating Co., of Wheeling, West Va. At the time of his sudden death he was a director in that company and managing director of its eastern business, with office at 47 Cliff st, New York city. Under his wise management the operations of his company in the eastern section were very greatly enlarged and strengthened, and his company loses in him one of its wisest counsellors and most progressive men of affairs. In the social and political relations of life he was equally well rounded, beyond value as a citizen, admired, loved and almost reverenced by men who knew him best. In this labyrinth called life there are some men who stand as beacon lights, showing the right way to all people at all times. Herman Clark Mechling was one of these.

John Casey, prominent in real estate and building in this city for many years, died while on a vist to Ireland, on the 15th of June. His son and partner, William, fetched the body home, and the funeral occurred here on July 22.

Mr. Casey was 67 years old, and leaves surviving him but one son, William J., who will continue the business as heretofore, at 1949 Seventh av. Mr. Casey was a master builder, for years a general contractor, and latterly with his son, a speculative builder on a large scale, operating principally on the West Side and in Harlem. He was widely known throughout the city, and his work had a high reputation.

Bernstein & Bernstein, 24 East 23d st, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a 4-sty fireproof educational building, 95x95 feet, with a seating capacity of 1,000, for the Uptown Educational Alliance; D. Trowbridge & Livingston, 424 Fifth av, are the architects.

Contracts for Geo. A. Fuller Co.

In our last issue we mentioned the fact of the Geo. A. Fuller Company having received the contract for the Freedmen's Hospital at Washington, D. C. We would augment that announcement with the statement that the architects are Messrs. Bruce, Price & De Sibour. The building will be of granite, brick and terra cotta, of modern fireproof construction and monumental in design.

The Geo. A. Fuller Company has also secured the contract for the store building for O'Neill, the dry goods merchant, in Baltimore, Md. This will also be of fireproof construction, with front of limestone, six stories in height, and to cost $150,000. The architects are Baldwin & Remington.

No Architect Yet for Furniture Exchange Building.

The New York Furniture Exchange, now quartered in the Grand Central Palace, on Lexington av and 43d st, Mr. C. Platt, manager, informs the Record & Guide that nothing definite has yet been decided as to plans, or architect selected, for the new contemplated 12-sty office building, proposed to be erected and used in part by the exchange. He said: "It will be at least ninety days yet before matters of this sort can be determined." It was announced in these columns, July 22d, the new structure would measure 200x250 feet, and cost $1,500,000. The Grand Central Palace was recently sold by the Goelet estate to the New York Central Railroad for its terminal improvements and will not be torn down until in 1908, when the present lease expires. It is therefore supposed that the Furniture Exchange will not build for a couple of years yet.

BUILDING NOTES

The new Belmont Hotel is still in the hands of the plasterers, though the upper part is about finished, and the proprietors are looking at furniture samples.

The temporary station building at the Grand Central Depot is to have a stucco finish, which is now being put on by the George A. Fuller Co., general contractors. Atlas cement is being used.

William H. Ten Eyck has resigned as president of the Aqueduct Commission, and is succeeded by John F. Cowan, who was appointed a member of that board about three months ago to succeed Mr. William E. Curtis.

Thomas C. Fleming, well known to the steam and hot-water heating trades, has associated himself with the Thomas F. Cushing Co., of the Flat Iron Building, and will take an active interest in the management of the business.

The city's new and first electric light works will be in operation in a short time. The structure, which is located near the Manhattan anchorage of the Williamsburgh Bridge, will furnish light to the new bridge, and also to the public schools in the neighborhood.

Mr. J. Waldo Smith, M. Am. Soc. C. E., has resigned his position as Chief Engineer of the Aqueduct Commission, and will become it is said, Chief Engineer of the new commission which has been appointed by Mayor McClellan, to provide an additional water supply to the city.

The contract for grading, macadamizing and otherwise improving Secor av, from Wolf's lane, westerly, to Pelham Parkway, has been awarded by the Secor Realty Co. to Smith Alford, contracting engineer, of 181 Broadway. There is about one-half mile of this work, which includes excavating, macadamizing, laying water lines and sidewalks.

John L. Jordan, for four years assistant Building Superintendent Bureau of Buildings, in the Borough of Manhattan, resigned his position with the Department on Tuesday, August 1st. Mr. Jordan will devote his entire time to his father's business, the well-known building firm of John Jordan & Son, with offices at No. 449 West 28th st. His resignation was received with regret by all.

The largest city contract for structural ironwork now in the hands of the American Bridge Co. is the New York Central power house. In case of a strike of the housesmiths against the Bridge Co., it would be tied up. President Buchanan says a local sympathy strike is very possible. The ironworkers complain that the Bridge Company sublet a New Haven Railroad contract to a non-union concern.

The revived 2-family house movement in the Bronx is well started. A good instance is a brick row of fourteen, in pairs, on Sherman av north of 165th st. The houses are substantially and prettily built, though the rooms are rather small. Every floor is hardwood, parquet style; and there is steam heat, whitewood trim, porcelain tubs, tiled bathrooms, papered walls, gas stoves, ice chests and pantries. Everything is very nice and complete, and the rent is thirty dollars per flat.

The White Fireproof Construction Co., of No. 1 Madison av, has again found it necessary to secure additional office space. When the White Fireproof Construction Company moved its offices to 1 Madison av this spring it was thought that the suite of rooms which the company then took would more than cover its needs for some time to come; but it was not long before the force began to feel the need of still more open space, and we now find that they have just about doubled their original floor area. With its new facilities the White Fireproof Construction Company is in the very best position to furnish estimates, lay-outs for iron and fireproofing, as well as to execute all work in the most rapid and approved manner. As the White Fireproof Construction Company does not sublet any of its work, the management is able to give every part a personal supervision not possible in any other way, and this permits the highest standard of workmanship being attained. Many of the most discriminating architects and builders are now giving the "White System" decided preferences over all others.

Land for Blackwell's Island Bridge.

On September 9th the land needed for the construction of the Blackwell's Island Bridge, lying between 59th and 60th sts, and running from Av A 206 feet westwardly, will vest in the city.

The map prepared by the Department of Bridges showing this land as required for bridge purposes was approved on December 23, 1904, and on the same date the Corporation Counsel was authorized to take the necessary steps to acquire title under the provisions of section 1436 and the following sections of the City Charter. The Commissioners in this proceeding have been appointed, and filed their oaths on June 14, 1905. Section 1439 of the Charter provides that in case there are buildings upon the land to be acquired, and in case provision is made for the vesting of title after the filing of the oaths of the Commissioners, the date for such vesting of title must be at least two months after the passage of the resolution.

Cement for West Point.

The Vulcanite Portland Cement Co. has just closed a contract for supplying cement required for the New West Point; in other words, for the rebuilding of the United States Military Academy. Several million dollars will be spent by the Government in making the Academy, structurally, the grandest of its kind in the world. The "Vulcanite" was selected after comparative tests conducted by the army engineers at West Point. The first order, Manager Albert Moyer says, amounts to thirty thousand barrels, part of which has already been shipped. The New York office of the Vulcanite company is in the Flat Iron Building.

Equitable Valuations.

President Paul Morton has decided, according to a report current yesterday, to employ John N. Golding and Douglas Robinson, two real estate experts, to appraise the value of the New York city real estate held by the Equitable Assurance Society, in order to verify the estimates heretofore placed on the property by the company.

Proposed Real Estate Protective Association.

A movement is on foot in Brooklyn for a real estate protective association, to be composed of real estate brokers and agents. Petitions are being circulated for signatures. The need of such an organization in Brooklyn has been keenly felt of late. At a dinner soon to be held the subject will be thoroughly discussed. It is proposed to have a permanent meeting place and a salaried secretary. A number of prominent brokers are advancing the movement.

Sale of the Ditmars Farm in Brooklyn.

The Ernestus Gulick Co. announce the sale of the farm belonging to the heirs of James Ditmars, consisting of about 800 lots, to the "Estate Agents." The price paid was about $150,000. This property abuts on the Long Island Railroad on the east, Vanderveer Park on the south, and Rugby on the north. This is the last remaining farm in that section in the hands of the original owners, who in this case are Mary M. McDonald and James Remson Ditmars of the State of Washington, James D. Remsen of Boston, John Ditmars of Brooklyn, and Mary G. Voorhees of Morristown, N. J. These are heirs of James Ditmars, who occupied the old homestead which is located on Kings Highway. The syndicate proposes to immediately develop the property by continuing streets through from Vanderveer Park, which is partially built up to the border of this farm.

Batterson & Eisele's New Plant.

Batterson & Eisele take pleasure in informing their patrons and friends that their new and extensive plant is now in full operation. This plant is located at Edgewater, N. J., opposite Grant's Tomb, about 200 yards south of the ferry running between 130th st, Borough of Manhattan, and Edgewater, N. J. It has a water front of 350 feet and a depth of 600 feet, affording splendid docking and shipping facilities.

The mill is equipped with the best modern machinery and appliances for handling and working marble and stone. With this new plant the firm is placed in a position to handle and quickly turn out any contract in the marble, stone and mosaic line that may be awarded to it. The new plant can be very conveniently reached by way of the Broadway cars, running right to the ferry, or the Subway to the Manhattan street station, which is only two blocks to the ferry. All uptown cars connect with the ferry, via 125th st cross town cars.

In addition to its new factory, the firm will maintain its New York establishment at 425 to 433 Eleventh av, where a force of competent mechanics will always be available to attend to hurry and repair work. The firm having thus more than tripled its capacity, begs to assure its patrons and friends that their orders will not only be attended to with the promptness that has made the firm known all over the world, but in a much shorter time than has heretofore been possible. Having immense storage facilities, the firm is enabled to carry a very large assortment of foreign and domestic marbles in stock, from which a piece of work of ordinary dimensions can be taken without having to wait to import the material from abroad or bring it from domestic quarries.

Large, handsomely located hotel suitable for sanitarium, with beautiful park, about 15 acres, situated in mountains, 1,200 feet altitude, perfect health conditions, natural Lithia and Chalybeate mineral springs; ideal surroundings, modern building, complete, and ready for immediate occupancy. Handsomely furnished. All year round hotel. Might exchange, or form a corporation to bottle Lithia waters. There is a fortune to be made in it. Property, hotel and contents free and clear. Propose to issue bonds and stock. Would issue first mortgage bonds; also stock in five or ten-dollar certificates, to be sent broadcast throughout the United States to all reputable physicians, with the understanding that they are to recommend our Lithia water to their patients, in case any should recommend a southern hotel for their patients (patients to remain in their care through the physician at the hotel or sanitarium). ## CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follews: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

July 28, 29, 31, August 1, 2, 3.

THE remarkable advances which have recently been taking place in the prices of a number of high-priced securities, have been the sensation of Wall Street; and they are as certain to result eventually in new financial arrangements on the part of the corporations concerned, as if the companies were failing instead of enjoying extraordinary prosperity. Stocks which sell any where from 200 to 450 and which do not distribute more than a small proportion of their net earnings, are not fit material for stock market trading. Schemes will undoubtedly be worked out in the course of time whereby the assets which justify these high quotations will be distributed and represented by larger volumes of securities which pay lower dividend rates and sell for less money. Such financial schemes have not been very much in favor during the past two years; but now that confidence has been restored, we may expect that the great manufacturers of securities will resume business. They certainly have many opportunities to produce large volumes of saleable goods. In respect to these high-priced railway stocks, it is interesting to note that they consist, not of the great passenger trunk lines connecting the East and the West, but either of coal roads or of roads whose mileage runs west of Chicago. It is not the New York Central or the Pennsylvania which earns twenty per cent. on its stock and sells between 200 and 450; it is the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, the Delaware and Hudson and the Lackawanna. Doubtless one reason is that in the past financial history of the New York Central and of the Pennsylvania the melon has already been cut several times, but the lesson on the whole seems to be one which indicates the paying quality of honest and competent railroad management. The Erie was almost irretrievably wrecked by its early controllers, although it operated a line from New York to Chicago, whereas Mr. Hill has managed to make a railroad which runs from Minneapolis to the Coast, through a comparatively uninhabited country, earn twenty per cent. on its stock.

REAL ESTATE trading is fair in volume, considering the season of the year; but it is devoid of new traits or interesting results. It is confined chiefly to flats and tenements. The demand for private residences is fair; but it is nothing extraordinary. No specific indication is afforded as yet of the dominant lines of activity during the coming season, but there is every reason to suppose that real estate and building transactions will continue to be much the same in character and volume as they have been during the past twelve months. The underlying conditions determining the whole movement—the enormous increase of the population of the city by immigration, will not be altered, because the general business prosperity which attracts these aliens will persist. But while the population will be increasing, no additional means will be provided during the year of distributing it more effectually; and a large volume of new tenement house construction will be necessary to accommodate it. These tenements will be constructd chiefly in the east side of the Bronx, for it is becoming more difficult than it was to obtain good sites anywhere on the East Side of Manhattan. A better class of tenement house will be erected on Washington Heights in even larger numbers than during the past spring and summer. Indeed, we should not be surprised to see plans filed for fully five hundred five or six-story flats to be erected on Washington Heights during the coming twelve months, and construction will also be commenced in the Dyckman tract. We doubt very much, however, whether builders will erect private dwellings on the Heights in much larger numbers than they have hitherto, because the enlarged demand for residences is looking rather for houses on the East Side costing from $40,000 up, than for a cheaper grade of residences. The existing supply of cheap houses on the West Side and in Harlem is apparently adequate to the demand; and that demand must be actually less than it used to be, because the supply is being constantly decreased (owing to the destruction of old buildings) without causing any noticeable increase in prices. So far as business property is concerned the area of activity and new building will be shifted a little further north, and under prevailing conditions it should reach a large volume. During the next few years the majority of new loft buildings will be erected north of Twenty-third Street and along the line of Broadway.

IT would seem as if it were scarcely worth while for the Lackawanna Railroad Company to erect another large and expensive terminal in Hoboken, for surely the officials of the company must realize that they will be forced eventually to build into Manhattan. The company will be able to keep its present large suburban traffic, and to secure a fair share of the enormous increase of the future only by meeting the plans of its competitors. The competition of the Pennsylvania service might not make so much difference; but the trolley car pervades every town in New Jersey, and in a few years will be carrying passengers without change and by express service into the heart of the business and amusement districts of Manhattan. To ignore this competition or to pretend that the establishment of a ferry service to Twenty-third Street is a sufficient counter move would be the worst kind of business. Neither should the cost of the project be too great for the Lackawanna Company. It would, indeed, be obliged to purchase a terminus as far east as Seventh Avenue somewhere north of Twenty-third Street; but it could probably share the expense with the Erie Company, and in any event the cost would be small compared to that which the Pennsylvania is incurring. A block of real estate should be sufficient for the station, and this purchase could be made partly to pay its own expenses. Every year of delay means an increase in the expense incurred and the time will come when further delay will be tantamount to the abandonment of its local passenger business.

THE proposal of the nominating committee of the Citizens' Union to run Mr. Jerome for Mayor, is not a wise one; and Mr. Jerome himself will certainly know enough to reject it. He would make a much stronger running candidate for District Attorney than for Mayor; and there is no evidence that if he were elected Mayor, he would make a competent official. The duties of the Mayor of New York are chiefly that of a business executive; and our Chief Magistrate should be first of all a man of affairs. But Mr. Jerome has little interest in municipal or any other kind of business. He is a lawyer, a moralist, a reformer and a popular exhorter whose business it is to talk, and the position of District Attorney suits him admirably. We believe that he has a much better chance to be elected District Attorney. There are many independent Tammany voters in New York who might vote for Jerome as a candidate for District Attorney, just as they voted for Roosevelt as a presidential candidate, but whose loyalty to the organization would not allow them to vote for Jerome as a candidate for Mayor. No; let us have men of affairs for our Mayors—men who, no matter whether they are lawyers or not, show some technical interest in the tough details and problems of municipal finance and administration.

AS the weeks go by, it becomes harder rather than easier to discover any serious flaws in the business situation. General trade throughout the whole country is reported by the mercantile agencies to be both large in volume and wholesome in character. The prosperity of the iron business for the next six months is assured, while at the same time there is no strong tendency towards a big boom and excessive prices. In certain lines premiums are being paid for early delivery, but the condition is not what it was in 1902. There is apparently no danger of any disturbing stringency in the money market during the remainder of the current year. There is every prospect that the crops will be unusually large in volume, and will nevertheless be sold at profitable prices. In the stock market many of the best securities are selling at figures which do not apparently leave much room for a further advance; but according to the outlook there is nothing insecure about the structure of values. It has been obtained through the purchase of stocks by investors, and does not rest to any considerable extent upon borrowed money. In fact, there are no indications of a "boom" in any important part of the industrial and commercial territory. What we see is wholesome activity and steady expansion. Even the labor unions are on the whole content to enjoy their share of the spoils, so that the resources of the savings banks have been increasing during the past six months at an unexampled rate. Indeed, the situation looks so extremely satisfactory that an observer cannot help harboring a doubt whether it is really as good as it seems. A man cannot put his finger on certain tendencies as in 1902; and say that if this sort of thing keeps up there will be trouble; but at the same time a business man would be foolish not to tread warily and prepare against possible disappointments. The best way to safeguard the existing prosperity will be to take it temperately.

Real Estate Conditions at Other Centers.

(Special Reports to the Record and Guide.)

SAN FRANCISCO.

The month of June witnessed the largest totals of real estate sales for any single month in the history of San Francisco. There were 792 sales recorded for a total of $6,911,395. The figures for the month of October, 1904, when the totals were $6,073,633, were the highest previous monthly record. The figures for the month just closed are the more remarkable, for in October, 1904, the Spreckles-Phelan sale for $2,600,000 was recorded, while the largest sale in June was for $700,000. Not only were the figures for the month just closed the highest yet, but the half year ending June 30th was also a record-breaker. There were 4,321 sales recorded in the past six months for a grand total of $29,468,283. This is over $3,500,000 higher than the figures for the first half of 1903, the best previous half year, when the figures were $25,738,185.

Building operations for the half year amount to $11,463,076, made up as follows: Frame buildings, $5,805,336; brick, $4,985,840; alterations, $671,900. This is a large increase over last year, the building operations for the entire year 1904 amounting to $16,916,118.

The development of the State in numerous channels is progressing most favorably. San Francisco is prosperous and growing because California is actually being developed. The commencement of work on the Western Pacific Railroad by the Goulds not only indicates progress, but proves that this large Eastern railroad interest feels that they must be represented in California by a through line of their own if they expect to get a share of the increasing business and commerce of the State.

Building contracts for the month were filed as follows: Frame buildings, $1,226,224; brick, $997,559; alterations, $153,145. Total, $2,376,928.

That there are more than the usual number of vacant houses and flats during the summer months, is apparent to everyone who travels about the city. This is caused by an overbuilding of flats. Many new ones had never found tenants even before the summer began. Increasing population will remedy this if those who are thinking of building will heed the warning. Most of our savings banks realize this state of affairs and have been declining applications for loans from those who were contemplating the erection of flats in unsuitable locations.

THOMAS MAGEE & SONS.

ROCHESTER.

For several years the city of Rochester has been enjoying remarkable prosperity, a large number of factories have been moved here during the past five years and located at the extreme east and west ends of the city. This has greatly stimulated the demand for houses and materially increased rents, but it has not materially affected real estate values until this year.

The building operations for the past three years were as follows:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1902..... | $2,913,142 | The population in | 1860 | was | 48,924 |
| 1903..... | 1,853,571 | " " " | 1880 | " | 89,363 |
| 1904..... | 4,225,927 | " " " | 1900 | " | 162,608 |
| 1905 to July 1st | 2,738,142 | " " " | 1905 | about | 190,000 |

The number of deeds recorded in the County Clerk's office, so far this year, is probably one-third more than last year. Prices are steadily advancing, both in business and residential property. Land on Main st in the best retail section is held at $3,000 to $4,000 a front foot.

Practically no new section or tracts are being opened, but several tracts that have lain dormant for years are now being developed, and many of the older parts of the city are being improved.

Yours respectfully,
C. F. GARFIELD REAL ESTATE CO.,
C. F. Garfield.

MONTREAL.

Mr. Craddock Simpson, president of the Craddock Simpson Co., leading real estate insurance and financial agents of Montreal, favor the Record and Guide with the following information:

The city of Montreal—the principal ocean port of Canada for about seven months of the year—is sharing in the general prosperity of the country, and the growth of population is increasing the demand for house accommodations, of which the supply has been and is insufficient. Rents, both of residential and business properties, have been increasing for the last few years, and they have now about reached a point when a reasonable return can be obtained from the erection of houses, flats, warehouses and shops, and in consequence a fairly active construction movement is now on.

The transfers of real estate in the city for the last few years are as follows:

| Years. | | | |
| 1902..... | 1,891 | transfers, amounting to | $9,093,868 |
| 1903..... | 2,113 | " " " | 12,380,557 |
| 1904..... | 2,216 | " " " | 11,840,975 |

During the first six months of the present year (1905) there have been 1,446 transfers, amounting to $8,254,606.

Nine hundred and forty building permits were issued during the first six months of this year, and the cost of the work is stated to be $2,938,839, as compared with 686 permits during the corresponding period of 1904, the cost of the work then being $1,883,147. These figures are for buildings within the city proper, and do not include the large number of buildings in the immediate suburbs where there has been a good deal of activity, notably in the southwestern and in the northwestern parts of the city, the former being an extension of the best residential section, and the latter a location for a cheaper class of houses in the vicinity of railway workshops and other factories.

There is very little speculative demand as yet for real estate, nearly all the sales made having been for actual use, so that the market is in a healthy condition. The older parts of the city are being improved and some fine office buildings have been erected on St. James st and Place d'Armes.

St. Catherine st has become the leading street in Montreal for high-class retail business, and a number of properties have changed hands during the last twelve months at ever-increasing prices.

The rapid growth of northwestern Canada and the immense sums of money to be spent in railway development during the next eight or ten years, will all tend to benefit Montreal, and will make its real estate something to be desired.

ATLANTA.

Forrest and George Adair, who have been engaged in real estate at Atlanta, Ga., since 1863, and are familiar with the upbuilding of that city, answering a request for information concerning the real estate status there this present year, write the Record and Guide as follows:

It is true that during the past year the real estate transfers in Atlanta have greatly exceeded that of any preceeding year; and we really think that if the records could be compiled, it would show that they have doubled any year in our history.

The good price that has been obtained by the farmers for their cotton crop, the successive years of remarkably fine fruit crops, and the general disposition on the part of the farmers to more greatly diversify, has put the South generally in a better condition than it has been in since the Civil War.

Furthermore, during the past four or five years, people in this section have been devoting more attention and capital to manufacturing. The erection of a large number of cotton mills throughout the South has put us far ahead of New England on that line. Throughout Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia the iron and coal fields have been developed to a remarkable extent.

Near Atlanta, we have wonderful natural resources, being in close proximity to pine and hardwood timber lands, and in minerals we have iron, gold, slate, marble, and others, that are being successfully mined and quarried.

The people are industrious, liberal in their views, spend little time discussing politics, religion or the race problem; and in the main, are actively at work, every man doing his part toward the upbuilding of our entire section.

Atlanta, being an important railroad center and distributing point, with climatic conditions unsurpassed, having an altitude of about 1,200 ft. above the sea, and with the various railroad systems reaching us in every direction, has, of course, reaped a very great benefit from this general prosperity. The building record for this year is greater than ever known; the government reports show that the postal receipts have made a phenomenal increase, the bank clearances are much larger; and, indeed, by applying any test that is known it can be readily seen that our progress has been great; and, of course, all this leads up to the information that you seem to desire as to the condition of the real estate market.

We regret that we have no statistical information as to the number of conveyances recorded, etc.; but, being in close touch with the market, we know that the year 1904 and 1905 will show a greater number than any three years of Atlanta's history.

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR.

Temporary Edifice for St. Thomas's.

The Andrew J. Robinson Co., of 123 East 23d st, has signed a contract to build for St. Thomas's Episcopal Church, a temporary structure of brick, on the site of the brownstone Gothic edifice destroyed by fire, on the northwest corner of 5th av and 53d st. The structure will cost about $25,000, and will be of fireproof construction.

The Rev. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas's, informed the Record and Guide that there will then be built around this temporary place of worship a permanent edifice which will be almost a duplicate of the former building.

The arrangement with the Robinson Co. includes clearing the site and removing the unsafe parts of the walls. The tower seems to be intact, and the present intention is to permit it to remain. Otherwise, about sixty per cent. of the church walls will have to come down.

The temporary building will be of fireproof construction, and necessarily of smaller ground dimensions than the present building. At last accounts no architect had been selected, but it seemed to be the wish of the officers of the congregation that the old church should be reconstructed practically on the original lines.

When St. Thomas's built on the present site, in 1870, a temporary building was first erected, as will be done in this case, and the permanent edifice was built around it at a cost of $300,000, from plans by Upjohn, to which must be added the cost of the organ, valuable paintings and statuary, and other contents. The insurance amounts to about $200,000.

The wardens are George Maculloch Miller and James C. Fargo and the vestrymen are Anson R. Flower, Henry H. Cook, Clarence M. Hyde, Charles H. Stout, John T. Atterbury, H. C. Fahnestock, Alexander M. Hadden, James T. Woodward and D. O. Mills.

Bids for Manhattan Bridge.

Bids for furnishing the metal work for the anchorages and constructing the towers, cables, suspenders and suspended superstructure of the Manhattan Bridge were opened on Thursday as follows: Pennsylvania Steel Co., $7,284,739; the John Peirce Co., $7,486,491.14; R. H. Hood & Co., $7,956,712; Milliken Brothers $7,983,970; the King Bridge Co., $9,312,940. The Pennsylvania Steel Co., being the low bidder, is expected to get the contract.

The amount of security to guarantee the faithful performance of this work will be $1,500,000. The work must be completed by January 1, 1909. The tower foundations are already completed—one at Pike slip, Manhattan, the other at the foot of Adams st, Brooklyn. The anchorages are to cost $1,225,000 each. The steel for the anchorages is to be delivered by February, 1906; the towers are to be begun next spring. About 42,000 tons of steel will be required for the anchorages and superstructure. To this is to be added 18,700 pounds of bronze, 25,200 pounds of zinc and 28,000 pounds of lead. For the towers 930 cubic yards of concrete are called for.

The Belmont Tunnel to Long Island.

Work on the proposed tunnel between 42d st and Long Island City has been started at two points, on the east shore and on Man-o'-war's Reef, which is in the middle of the river. Next week operations will begin on the Manhattan side, on a shaft that is to be sunk at a point between 42d and 43d sts. The Degnon Construction Company is the contractor for the whole work under the river, and no other section contract has yet been let.

The permission from the U. S. Government for sinking a shaft on Man-o'-war's Reef specifies a time limit of two years, within which period the contractor expects to complete his obligation, and will be enabled to do this by the convenience afforded by a shaft in the middle of the stream. It allows of four subaqueous headings instead of two, so that there will be two working shoreward and two riverward. The east shore shaft has reached a depth of thirty feet or more, and on the reef work has just been started with the aid of boats.

How far across Manhattan Island the tunnel will extend, the company's officers do not publicly announce. Their franchise permits them to tunnel to 11th av if they wish, and the general expectation is that eventually a loop will be built there, which is practically the foot of West 42d st. Here the Sandy Hook boats, the West Shore and the Ontario and Western ferries, the steamer Mary Powell and the Albany boats land. Passengers will then be able to step from the ferries and boats directly into the tunnel trains, and not change until they reach Long Island City or Woodside, at which latter place the tunnel will connect with a trolley system for Long Island points. One effect, if the tunnel crosses the whole island, will be to relieve traffic congestion in 42d st. How the Long Island line will get past the Subway, which uses a part of 42d st, underground, has not been disclosed. For that reason the opinion exists in some quarters that the Long Island rails will, for the present, come no farther west than the Grand Central depot, to a connection with the Subway, which is controlled by the same interests building the tunnel.

New Streets on Washington Heights.

It is proposed to lay out three new streets in the Washington Heights section, extending from Broadway to Nagle av, and a hearing is advertised by the Board of Estimate for September 22.

At the present time the territory bounded by Dyckman st on the northeast, Nagle av on the southeast and Ellwood st and Broadway on the southwest and northwest, comprises but two blocks, the area being approximately bisected by Sherman av. A rectangular street system has been provided for the territory northeast of Dyckman st, but for the reason that the blocks have a depth of 300 feet, it has evidently been deemed unwise to continue the same to the south of Dyckman st and across the area affected by the resolution now presented. By changing the direction of the street, making the blocks have their greatest length in a southeasterly and northwesterly direction, instead of in a northeasterly and southwesterly direction as north of Dyckman st, it has been found possible to lay out the area in blocks generally having a depth of 200 feet and a length of from 600 to 700 feet. The streets will have a width of 60 feet. The area is almost wholly unimproved at the present time, and no buildings will be taken, other than a green house located on the line of the proposed Sickles st, just northwest of Nagle av. The other two streets are named Arden and Thayer.

Fireproof Dwellings of Moderate Cost.

The fireproof dwelling house of moderate cost has at last arrived. A. T. Stewart's famous New York "mansion" was the first serious attempt to erect a fireproof dwelling, but that structure would not now be accepted as satisfying the modern definition of fireproof, because, although it had iron beams and brick arches throughout, no attempt was made to protect the structural iron work from the effects of fire. Since the erection of the Stewart mansion in 1866, fireproof dwellings for the wealthy have been common enough, but, as stated, there has been no attempt to apply the most up-to-date principles of fireproof construction to small and relatively cheap houses. All the efforts of the architects and builders to produce fireproof structures have been, for obvious reasons, spent upon the skyscraper.

To Pittsburgh belongs the honor of producing the first dwellings of low cost which are, in every sense of the term, proof against destruction by fire.

These houses, erected and owned by Mr. W. D. Henry, are built in pairs, with party wall between them—"semi-detached," they would be called in England. They contain three rooms on the first and second floors, a basement and attic. The plumbing and hot-water heating fittings are the best obtainable.

The basement walls are built wholly of hollow tile, 9x13 ins.,

BUILT FIREPROOF.

and 3 ft. long. These make a substantial, dry, 13-in. wall. The exterior walls are faced with red pressed brick, lined on the inside with hollow tile. The partition walls are constructed entirely of the latter material.

The floors are practically monolithic, being composed of hollow tile laid in straight courses, filled between the courses with one inch of concrete, with another inch of the same material underneath in which the steel fabric, used for tension, is embedded. The floors of the porches are constructed in the same way, the only difference being that inside the houses tightly joined grooved flooring is laid on the cement surfacing of the tiles.

The structure of the outer walls insures warmth in winter and coolness in summer by reason of the air space obtained by use of the hollow tile lining. No furring is required, the hard-plaster finish of the walls and ceilings being applied directly to the tile.

The use of wood has been reduced to a minimum. The roofs are tile and even the porch supports are constructed of fireproof blocks embedded in cement. The tiling of the roof and porch rests on steel framing.

Upon the general adoption of this form of construction the element of cost will naturally have an important bearing. Each of the houses represent an outlay of $4,600, which is about $500 more than the same houses would have cost if constructed in the usual way. From the viewpoint of the builder and owner, however, the houses are actually cheaper in their present form at $4,600 each, than would be a $4,100 house of the usual type. One reason for this is that insurance is reduced to a minimum, or the necessity for it done away with altogether. Another reason is that while houses of ordinary construction deteriorate four per cent. per year, these fireproof houses deteriorate only one-ninth of one per cent. a year, so that in the end a fireproof house is not only more comfortable, sanitary and safer, but also cheaper than a house of ordinary construction.

D. T. PIERCE.

The American Can Co. has finished plans for two new factories, one in New York and another in Lubec, Maine. The company is also contemplating the erection of a factory in the South, and it is not improbable that the trade will be well patronized by this company in the near future. The factory to be erected in this city will be built on 8th av, between 14th and 15th sts. It will be 75x206 ft., 6 stories in height, and will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000. The contract for erecting the structure has been let to Charles T. Wills and work has been begun.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

Plans for a Clubhouse.

40TH ST.—H. J. Hardenbergh, No. 1 West 34th st, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a new clubhouse to be erected at No. 18-22 West 40th st, for the New York Club, of which G. P. Sheldon, 68 William st, is president. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $500,000. No contracts have yet been made for the work.

Contract for R. H. Macy's New Stable Let.

WEBSTER AV.—Contracts have just been awarded to the Murphy Construction Co., 5-7 East 42d st, for the general construction of the new stable building for R. H. Macy & Co., Broadway and 34th st, to be erected on Webster av, at the city line, at a cost of about $50,000. De Lemos & Cordes, 130 Fulton st, architects.

Murphy Construction Company Gets Contract for Superstructure.

1ST AV.—The Murphy Construction Co., of 5-7 East 42d st, have obtained the contract for (superstructure) the 3-sty water side power station, to be erected on a plot 197.6x347.2 and 336.1, on the east side of 1st av, from 39th to 40th sts, and East River, for the New York Edison Co., of 55 Duane st. Thomas E. Murray is architect and chief engineer. Preliminary plans were approved in September of last year. A year ago Isaac A. Hopper & Son, 1170 Broadway, secured the contract for excavating and masonry, and later Post & McCord, 44 East 23d st, obtained the structural ironwork contract. The building is immediately north of the immense power house built in 1899 by the Edison Co.

Contract for Fifth Av. Store Building.

5TH AV.—Jacob A. Zimmermann, 1358 Broadway, has obtained the general contract to erect the 6-sty store and office building, on a plot 31.10x105, on the east side of 5th av, 35 ft south of 44th st, and adjoining the Temple Emanu-El, for the Hayden Co. (furniture), now at 520 Fifth av, who have a lease for a long term. The first three floors will be occupied by the Hayden Co., and the upper stories will be arranged for studios and offices. The building is to be completed by Feb. 1st. The 35th St and 5th Av Co. (Boehm & Coon), 31 Nassau st, are the owners; and George A. Boehm, 7 West 42d st, architect. See Record & Guide for April 8th, 1905.

Dawson and Archer Get Contract for Milk Depot.

57TH ST.—From the plans of Frank A. Rooke, 489 Fifth av, Messrs. Dawson & Archer, 150 Fifth av, have just obtained the general contract to build the 6-sty model sanitary milk depot for The Sheffield Farms-Slawson, Decker Co., to be situated in 57th st, 250 ft west of 10th av, at an estimated cost of $340,000. The property abutting through on 56th st will be altered into a stable for the company. Contracts for this work have also been let to Dawson & Archer. The property was acquired last December, and includes a plot of about nine lots in 57th and 56th sts. Ex-Health Commissioner Ernest J. Lederle recently gathered in Europe many valuable ideas of sanitation to be embodied in the new structure. As designed by Mr. Rooke, the establishment will be the most complete and up-to-date plant for handling dairy products in this city. Full particulars were given in issue May 27th, 1905.

Apartments, Flats and Tenements.

177TH ST.—W. C. Sommerfeld, 19 Union sq, is making plans for two 4-sty flats, for 16 families, 42.6x79, to be erected on the north side of 177th st, 100 ft. west of Amsterdam av, to cost $70,000.

31ST ST.—Grosvenor Atterbury, 20 West 43d st, is making plans for a 6-sty flat, 180x85.9, for 14 families, to be erected at Nos. 321-337 East 31st st, to cost $180,000. Phipps Houses, 787 5th av, is the owner.

BUILDING NOTES

Common brick prices continue in the ascending scale.

Something in the nature of a famine is threatened in lath.

The new Ingersoll-Rand drill company has taken offices on the fourteenth floor of the Bowling Green Building, 11 Broadway.

The plaster trade is doing well, mills are running to their fullest capacity, and those which have tied themselves up with contracts have some regrets, as prices are tending higher.

Thomas A. Edison, Orange, N. J., has announced that he has perfected his new storage battery and before long a factory will be started somewhere near New York to manufacture it.

The lime trade is better than ever before in this territory, forcing some companies to make piecemeal deliveries. Reports of cutting by Pennsylvania and Virginia concerns are, however, still heard.

The little drop in value which happened to cement a few weeks ago has not been recovered. But a lull in trade is always looked for in midsummer, and the mills are not accumulating any reserve.

The Erie Railroad has awarded a contract to Bennett & Talbot of Waynesboro, Pa., for building the first section of 12 miles of the Guyward cut off, which includes a long tunnel through the Shawangunk Mountains near Middletown, N. Y.

Mr. Felix F. Wiener, vice-president and treasurer of Henry Pels & Co., 68 Broad st, is going abroad on a short business trip. During his absence, Mr. I. Maddaus, secretary, will have charge of the office.

Andrew Fletcher of the W. &. A. Fletcher Co., operating large engineering works in Hoboken, N. J., died August 7, at the age of 77 years, at his country home in Bernardsville, N. J. The company of which Mr. Fletcher was a member has built many of the large river craft now plying on the Hudson and elsewhere.

Bids will be opened by the Police Commissioner of New York city at Police Headquarters, 300 Mulberry st, on Friday, August 18, for installing steam boilers and heating systems at the 1st, 8th, 12th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 18th, 20th, 22d, 28th, 30th; 31st; 32d and 35th Precinct Police Station Houses.

The Ajax Portland Cement Co. is to erect a new plant at Patternburgh, N. J. The plant is to be one of the most up to date plants of its kind in the country, and will include a main building, 140x320 ft., besides a grinding room, 48x100 ft.; boiler house, 50x60 ft., and engine room, 80x100 ft. George D. Claffin, Jr., 39 Cortlandt st, is representing the company.

The Garwood Steam Heaters, using gas for fuel, are made by the Frank C. McLain Co., 264 4th av. These heaters are healthful, economical and safe, and should be investigated by all architects and owners. The new catalogue will be sent to all who ask for it.

The Commissioner of Docks and Ferries has appointed Robert W. Pollock, No. 114 West 76th st, Manhattan, to the position of Superintendent of Ferries, with compensation at the rate of $4,000 per annum; and Lawrence Hanlon, Maple av, Clifton, Borough of Richmond, to the position of Assistant Superintendent of Ferries, at $2,500 per annum. The appointments took effect on Aug. 8th.

The Bessemer Limestone Co., Youngstown, Ohio, with brick plant at New Castle, Pa., has received a contract for 5,000,000 brick to be used in the new blast furnace being built by the Republic Iron & Steel Co., at Hazleton, near Youngstown, Ohio. The Bessemer Limestone Co. makes its brick of shale, which is the covering over the limestone. Its plant is equipped with modern machinery and has a capacity of 100,000 brick per day.

The contract for two large passenger steamships for a new service between New York and Boston has been awarded to the Roach Shipbuilding Co., Chester, Pa., by the Metropolitan Steamship Co., New York. The new vessels will be of turbine type, and will be about 400 ft. long. Each will be driven by three turbine engines, aggregating 10,000 horse-power, and are designed to have a speed of about 20 knots an hour. The cost of the vessels will be more than $750,000 each. Heretofore the Metropolitan Steamship Co. has done a freight business exclusively.

The use of the sand blast process by the National Waterproofing & Cleansing Co., 42 East 23d st, on interior woodwork is attracting notice. A very beautiful illustration of this work can be seen at the Wetzel Building, 2-4 East 44th st, where the above mentioned company is applying this process in the decoration of all the woodwork of the second floor, removing the pulp and getting a more pronounced effect of the grain of the wood, roughening the edges and obtaining the antique effect also. The same process was used by this company, through Mr. Stanford White, in the residence of Mr. James Pyle at Morristown. This effect has been wanted for a long time by architects and decorators, and we consider it of sufficient importance to bring to their notice these special pieces of work.

Perhaps a Lath Famine.

Lath are very high. This because they are scarce, and the indications are for something in the nature of a famine. Being an incidental or by-product in the lumber trade, there is nothing regular about the supply of lath, and prices jump around like a fly with its head off. But the average quotations coming in now are higher than almost ever before, and are of the leading wholesale dealers. Messrs. Stetson, Cutler and Redman predict that in the fall there probably wont be enough to go around.

Thompson-Starrett Company as Clubhouse Builders.

The award to the Thompson-Starrett Company of the fourteen-story building which the Chicago Athletic Association is to erect in Madison st, Chicago, adjoining its present club house, makes four club houses that this company is building at the same time, the other three being the Crescent Athletic Club in Brooklyn, the Illinois Athletic Club in Chicago and the Union League Club in Chicago. Mr. Richard E. Schmidt, well known as one of the leaders among the artist-architects of the West, is the architect of the Chicago Athletic Association building.

—The new terminal of the Lackawanna at Hoboken will have a main building of steel and concrete, two stories high, with a length of 500 ft. and a depth of 260 ft. There will also be a 2-sty emigrant station, 200x90 ft. Kenneth M. Murchison, Jr., of 5 West 31st st, is the architect. Snare & Triest, of this city, have the general contract, with the Fort Pitt Steel Works of Pittsburgh as sub-contractors, for the ironwork. Work has been started on the foundations. In view of the intention to clear away the old buildings anyway, the fire which saved this trouble was not so disastrous as would otherwise have been the case. The insurance money will very nearly recompense for all losses when this fact is weighed. The one old ferry boat "destroyed," as the early report had it, will be reclaimed, as the engine and hull are saved, while the damage to the new "Binghamton" is not beyond easy repair.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Chas. E. Duross and Tuoti & Co. have leased the 6-sty tenement, 212 to 216 East 109th st, for a term of years at aggregate rental of $90,000.

The incorporators of the "Allied Interests of the State of New York, are Edward Van Ingen, Allan Robinson, Alfred E. Marling, Charles S. Brown and Thomas H. Baskerville. A meeting of the incorporators will be held next Tuesday.

E. V. Pescia & Co. have leased for Dr. Knopp the 6-sty tenement 182 Chrystie st, for a term of years, at an aggregate rental of $16,000; also leased the 4-sty business building 2193 3d av, for a term of years, at an aggregate rental of $12,000.

The appointment of John N. Golding and Douglas Robinson to appraise the city property of the Equitable Assurance Society, is a very distinguished recognition for these two gentlemen. The first report was somewhat indefinite, but the appointments have actually been made.

Mr. Peter F. Meyer, on one of those hot days, speaking of the market, remarked that there was little doing in the present, and he saw no indications of any special activity in the fall. Mr. Meyer was of the opinion that we shall see again in Manhattan no such market as prevailed last winter and spring. "There are parts of New York that are getting played out," he said.

The Brunswick Site Company is plaintiff in a suit in the Supreme Court against the Brunswick Construction Company and others to foreclose a mortgage of $150,000 on 217 to 231 5th av, 1 to 9 East 26th st, and 2 and 4 East 27th st, the vacant site of the proposed new Brunswick Hotel. The mortgage was made on June 28, 1904, payable on March 1, 1905, to Samuel V. D. White, and assigned on July 13, 1905, to the Brunswick Site Company. George Carlton Comstock, attorney for the plaintiff, has filed a lis pendens against the property.

—The General Arbitration Board is now hearing the case of the Amalgamated Painters' Society against their employers. The men demand a new agreement, embodying higher wages. Not being able to settle the dispute themselves, both sides, under the rules of the arbitration plan, have referred the case to the general board. A dispute in the marble trade is being settled in the same way. The strike of bridgebuilders and housesmiths, ordered on Monday, against the American Bridge Co., affects only the two new New York Central power houses in this city and vicinity, though elsewhere they include all jobs where the American Bridge Co. has first contract for erection. The general strike order, according to Secretary McNamara, was the outcome of the trouble between the union and the American Bridge Co. over the subletting of a New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad contract to a Boston company which the union claims is "unfair."

Large, handsomely located hotel suitable for sanitarium, with beautiful park, about 15 acres, situated in mountains, 1,200 feet altitude, perfect health conditions, natural Lithia and Chalybeate mineral springs; ideal surroundings, modern building, complete, and ready for immediate occupancy. Handsomely furnished. All year round hotel. Might exchange, or form a corporation to bottle Lithia waters. There is a fortune to be made in it. Property, hotel and contents free and clear. Propose to issue bonds and stock. Would issue first mortgage bonds; also stock in five or ten-dollar certificates, to be sent broadcast throughout the United States to all reputable physicians, with the understanding that they are to recommend our Lithia water to their patients, in case any should recommend a southern hotel for their patients (patients to remain in their care through the physician at the hotel or sanitarium). For some time past there have been some unprincipled parties introducing an inferior article and an imitation of the LOGAN HORSE STALL, in some cases calling it THE LOGAN'S STALL, deceiving the architects and owners. There is only ONE LOGAN'S HORSE STALL on the market, and it can be easily known, for I have each pan marked at the upper end with embossed letters, "LOGAN'S PATENT." ## CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follews: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

August 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10.

THE stock market has on the whole been pursuing a healthy course during the past week. The advance has been checked in certain high-priced securities and certain other securities which have not hitherto been so much affected by the bull movement have received most attention and have sustained the most marked improvement. At the same time it is not a runaway market, and every rise is followed by a wholesome amount of profit taking. It looks as if the upward trend of prices would be continued throughout the next few months; but it will not be a market in which indiscriminate buying will be profitable. The average price of the twenty leading railway stocks is now higher than the highest average price in 1902; and in these stocks at least there is small chance of an increased rate of dividend distribution during the coming year. The great majority of them are selling on less than a four per cent basis at the present time, and this fact makes them expensive stocks to carry. If speculative interest is to be kept alive in stocks of this class, it will be by means of certain financial readjustments which will be tantamount to extra dividends to stockholders. On the other hand, there are still some comparatively low stocks on the list which may be good for a further rise of ten points or more—particularly certain railroad securities which would be peculiarly benefited by an abundant corn crop. As soon as this crop is freed from the danger of early frosts, these securities will receive still more attention. It is still a market in which intelligent buying should be well rewarded.

A PROMINENT broker recently declared in an interview published in the Record and Guide that in his opinion there would be no room for real estate speculation during the coming year similar to that of the season of 1904-1905. There is probably some sense in this anticipation. Assuredly there is no corresponding opportunity for speculation in vacant land as there was in the fall of 1904. The speculation which has already occurred on Washington Heights and beyond and in the Bronx went as far and even farther in raising prices than was justified by the building opportunity in those vicinities. In many sections the holders of vacant land will have to carry their property at high prices for a number of years before they can dispose of it to builders; and the cost of such operations is very considerable. Neither does there seem to be very much chance for large operations in the central business sections on Manhattan Island. We shall doubtless see a continuation of the current movement in the new wholesale and in the Fifth Avenue districts; but it may be doubted whether the activity will be either anything unusual or will mean many further advances in prices. On the other hand, while there is not likely to be as much speculation in vacant land and in land with old buildings, there is every prospect that the increasing population and business of Manhattan Island will continue to demand a large amount of new construction, and that the financing of these projects will keep brokers and building loan operators sufficiently busy. The outlook that is excellent for legitimate building enterprises and for the real estate transactions which necessarily accompany them; but it is not so good for the kind of speculation, of which we have seen so much of late. Indeed, it will be interesting to observe what direction speculative energy will take. There are so many people in New York who have nothing to do but to trade in real estate that there is a certain danger in a situation which does not provide sufficient opportunities for their activity and capital. They may, that is, be tempted to make opportunities which do not wholesomely exist.

IT is very much to be hoped that the coming investigation of the life insurance companies will be conducted in a dignified manner, and in a fair and disinterested spirit. The object of the investigation should not be any more "revelations" merely sensational exposure. The public knows pretty well the kind of management to which the Equitable was formerly subjected. What the Legislative committee should investigate is the whole business of life insurance as conducted under the laws of the State of New York. An impression which was or may not be well founded, has been spread throughout the country that there is something wrong about the methods which the large companies pursue in seeking business; about the kind of policies which they prefer to write, and about the investments which they are allowed to make. It is coming to be believed, for instance, that the interests of existing policy holders are sacrificed to the pressure of expensive competition among the large companies for new business, and that the direction which return should take is smaller expense and safer investments. How far this criticism is justified is a technical matter which cannot be fully understood without a very thorough investigation; and the first duty of the committee will be to bring out the facts which will enable people to judge how far this and other criticisms are true. Moreover, it is not merely the New York life insurance companies which are under fire at the present time. What people are demanding just as forcibly is an investigation of the New York State laws under which the life insurance business is regulated. It is becoming tolerably certain that unless these laws and their enforcement are made more stringent, that an increasing demand will make itself felt—looking in the direction of federal regulation and inspection. Hence, it will be seen that a great many very important issues are hanging upon the results of this investigation; and we sincerely hope that nothing will prevent the committee from making its investigation thorough and from recommending without fear or favor the necessary remedial legislation. There should be no suspicion allowed to linger in the minds of western policy holders that the life insurance companies are bigger than the State of New York.

IT is stated that nominations for the Board of Aldermen are going begging this fall, and that the prominent members of the existing Board are agreed upon the worthlessness of the aldermanic office, now that the Board of Estimate controls the franchises. No one need be surprised that such is the case. The Aldermen have no functions remaining which could not be as well bestowed upon the Borough President, and there is no reason why they should not be entirely abolished. They have become a useless expense. Of course, it is better to have the city pay high for the worthless services of a number of aldermen than to have it pay high for aldermanic services which were both worthless and baleful; but why pay at all? The Aldermen have even ceased to value their own services. They have outlived their power of doing evil, and there seems to be no place for them hereafter in the system of New York local government. Any important powers granted to them merely constitute an unnecessary check upon the powers of the Board of Estimate. That is the governing board of the city, and its responsibility should not be divided. It is to be hoped that no further attempt will be made to revive the Board of Aldermen. Such an attempt was the one egregious mistake of the revised charter, and it would be a good thing to make its commission more difficult a second time by abolishing the Board entirely. It is only a superstition of local government which keeps it alive.

MR. THOMAS W. LAWSON, in attempting to persuade the people of the United States to embark on a gigantic stock speculation for the purpose of destroying the System, "has set himself a task which" is too much even for his considerable powers. He has undoubtedly been very successful in the past in influencing public opinion; but the means to that end at his disposal are no more sufficient for the job he has undertaken than an army corps of 25,000 men would be sufficient to invade the United States. People will not be persuaded into selling good securities because certain prominent financiers have used their opportunities for the purpose of making money out of the public, any more than the policy-holders of the Equitable Life will allow their policies to lapse, because the former management of that company conducted its affairs somewhat extravagantly. Business-men, no matter how much they may suspect the existence of financial graft, know that American industrial and railway securities are based upon sound value, and that they themselves would be the chief sufferers from a general selling movement. Of course, it is unnecessary to elaborate any proof of this contention, which must be obvious to everybody; and the effort which Mr. Lawson is making to persuade security-holders to sell their stocks at a sacrifice in the expectation of buying them back cheap, indicates that his judgment is failing him, and that would be a pity, because Mr. Lawson is an extremely interesting and sympathetic figure, even if never an entirely trustworthy financial adviser. He seems to be absolutely sincere, thoroughly well-intentioned, and genuinely desirous of doing the public a benefit. But while he is acting and talking in absolute good faith, his methods remain as those of a stock speculator; and the combination is remarkable even in such a country of remarkable combinations as the United States. The mixture of reformer, pamphleteer, would-be public benefactor and stock-jobber is surely something new under the sun; and it only adds to the novelty of the spectacle that the scenery is that of Boston. Mr. Lawson certainly helps to make life more interesting in the year 1905; and we trust that he will not break himself against the rock of American industrial and financial security.

The System of Real Estate Assessment.

THE fact that it has been conclusively proved of late that the average assessed valuation of Manhattan and Bronx property is about 72 per cent. of the selling value, is arousing the usual discussion as to the necessity of some reorganization of the existing system of official appraisal. One man wants the appointment of more deputy assessors; another wants the city to offer larger salaries so that it can secure a higher grade of expert judgment; another wants the constitution of a board of review, to whom the property owners can appeal and obtain a prompt and fair consideration of an assessment, which is perhaps too big; another wants the appointment of local boards of equalization consisting of a few selected experts in each important district, whose business it will be rapidly to revise a certain portion of the list in the interest both of the property owner and of the city.

Although some of these suggestions are obviously dictated by interested motives, they all of them have reference to genuine difficulties about the existing system of official appraisal. It is distinctly not to be expected that there will be undercurrent methods and permanent improvement in the quality of the assessment list under the most favorable circumstances, the business of appraising real estate is one of extreme difficulty in which the best informed experts will frequently make grave errors; but the circumstances under which the official assessment list is prepared in this county, are far from favorable. The district covered by each deputy is much larger than he can properly handle. In some of the larger districts it is necessary for the assessor to fix the appraisal of 150 or 200 parcels in the course of a day; and no matter how careful are the records which he keeps, it is obviously impossible for him to assess each of these parcels with precise reference to its peculiar circumstances. The consequence is that his appraisal cannot be very much more than a rough guess—particularly in view of the fact that not more than one-tenth of the conveyances recorded at the present time have considerations expressed in the deed. Yet this rough guess remains the official assessment, unless the property owner can persuade a Tax Commissioner or a court that the assessment is over 100 per cent. of the real value of the property.

It is obvious that these methods do require radical change, and to suggest that such a change be made is not to criticize the deputy assessors personally. It is practically impossible for them to perform their task in an entirely satisfactory manner. Some improvement would result from an increase in the number of the assessors so that more time could be given to a consideration of each individual item, but we doubt whether it would be worth while to increase their salaries in the expectation of obtaining a higher grade of expert knowledge. The assessors are, as a rule, competent to perform their work in a satisfactory manner, provided too much is not expected of them. Their figures instead of being practically final (for it is very difficult to get them changed), should be frankly considered provisional, and should be subjected to review. Just what form this revision should take cannot be lightly determined, but it is evident that some arrangement should be made whereby a property owner can secure a speedy judgment on an appeal, and some arrangement should also be made that would protect the city and the majority of the property owners against under-assessment in particular instances and districts. This whole business should receive careful attention from Mayor McClellan's Commission, and the Mayor himself could not perform a more useful service to his constituents than to insist upon more careful methods in the Tax Department.

There is also another matter which requires in this connection careful consideration. We have frequently referred to the fact that at the present time the consideration is suppressed in every deed, except those in which there is some legal reason for explicitly stating it. The consequence is that the value of real property in New York City is no longer a matter of public record. It is not more than once in a generation that a parcel of real property is sold by executors or trustees, if indeed, it is as often as that, and during this interval the value of any particular lot is a matter of doubtful inference. Of course, there are local brokers and operators who are familiar with the prices which are being currently paid; but naturally the information possessed by these gentlemen is not at the service of the deputy assessors. It is the knowledge of the prices which constitutes an important part of the stock in trade—both of the broker and the operator. Of course the official appraiser has many ways of roughly guessing at the value of the property, such as the character of the building (if any), the amount of the mortgage and its rate of interest, and so on. But undoubtedly this condition of things, which is the creation of the past five years, very much increases the difficulty of valuing real estate for taxable purposes; and, indeed, one of the objects of the suppression of the consideration has been to evade the assessor. It is a serious question whether the city has not some redress in this matter. Inasmuch as a correct assessment list is a necessary condition of the equality of local taxation, there is a public interest in securing correct figures; and this public interest should justify the adoption of measures which would force the disclosure of the prices at which real estate is transferred.

The Renting Season.

RATES WELL MAINTAINED, BUT NO GENERAL ADVANCE.—OVER-PRODUCTION OF BUILDINGS THIS YEAR IMPOSSIBLE.

The city is in the midst of the renting season which is supposed to end October first and to begin on July first. The transactions have to do with dwellings, with apartments of the better sort, and also with new flats and tenements to be completed in September. In a word, it is a general renting season for all kinds of property under lease, except business property. The policy of agents and owners has been to insist on leases terminating in the fall rather than in the spring, and owing to the under supply they have succeeded in enforcing a very general change, which tends to prevent their property from being vacant during the summer months.

Promptly on the first of July the agents of first-class apartment houses send notices of expiration of lease, and suggest renewals, requesting an immediate answer. By this time, in a season when the demand is heavy, most of the high-priced flats that were for rent are engaged; but the rush for moderate apartments, and especially for tenements, has scarcely begun, and will not be at its height until the first week in September, when families that are now in the country will be returning.

Conditions have not materially changed from last fall, but there is no concerted movement to raise rents, as there was then, and there are more new houses being completed. These are not all ready yet; some will be late, and their lateness will have the effect of prolonging the renting season. The new houses coming ready will modify the latter end of the season for tenements, but when all are completed and occupied there will be still an under supply.

Calculations of the number of apartments that will be finished this fall, compared with the estimated growth and with the losses in buildings that will be sustained through clearings to be made for bridge approaches and other works, show that the demand far exceeds the supply. Rents are firmly held all over town, and agents and brokers predict a strong finish.

Mr. Bedell, of the Frank L. Fisher Co., speaking of the market at its present stage, said: "The same conditions prevail as last year, though possibly there is a little better demand. About four-fifths of our apartments have been rented, so that with us the season is well advanced. We handle more particularly high-grade private dwellings and apartments, and our especial field is between 72d and 104th sts, although our business extends over the West Side generally. We can say that, while there is no general movement to advance prices, yet rates are very firmly held. All grades of houses are in good demand."

Mr. R. E. Simon, of L. J. Phillips & Co., said: "People think that, owing to the unprecedented amount of building, there will be an over-production. They forget the rate at which New York is growing, and that hundreds of houses will be torn down in the course of a few months or a year to make way for parks and for bridge approaches. From two to three hundred will be taken away when the site for the new Chelsea Park is cleared; and when the approaches for the Blackwell's Island and Manhattan bridges are cleared many more will come down.

"I have ascertained the exact number of new apartments that will be ready on the first of October, and am now gathering some data concerning the probable increase in population; and I have also taken into account the number of buildings to be removed, and I can say that the computation when finished will show that there need be no fear of an over-production of houses."

—Interesting improvements continue to be made in the ferry facilities of Manhattan, a matter having a direct bearing on city real estate, for as the discomforts of commuting are decreased, the attractions and possibilities of suburban living are correspondingly heightened. On a number of ferry lines crossing the Hudson, the passenger traffic has been distinctly multiplied within the past three years, and another effect is seen in the growth of New Jersey towns. The new Lackawanna and Jersey Central ferry landings at the foot of West 23d st are so far completed that both companies are now using the new slips. This makes four lines, in all, coming to West 23d st. The new slips for the Erie are not yet finished. Three new double-decked boats, as fine as any on the river, have been put on this run for the Jersey Central—the "Elizabeth, "Red Bank" and "Wilkes-Barre." The Erie continues to use on this route three old boats, but is pledged to put into service here vessels equal to those maintained by the Pennsylvania, namely, the "St. Louis," "Pittsburgh" and "New Brunswick." The Erie has recently added to its fleet the new double-decked flyers, "Goshen," "Arlington" and "Tuxedo," and two more are building. The Lackawanna has this year brought out the "Scranton," "Binghamton" and "Scandinavia," on the Barclay st line; and the West Shore is building a mate for the "West Point" and "Syracuse." Several new ferries for the Staten Island route will soon be out, and when the South Brooklyn line is "municipalized," five vessels will be ordered for that run also.

Mobilization of Allied Interests.

The organization known as the Allied Real Estate Interests of the State of New York, which was incorporated several days ago, has now been organized with B. Aymar Sands, of 31 Nassau st, Manhattan, treasurer, and Allan Robinson, of 25 Broad st, secretary. Edward Van Ingen, who was prominent in the agitation against the Mortgage Tax Bill last spring, is one of the board of directors, and will be closely identified with the direction of the work of this organization. Announcement will be made in a few days of the remaining officers and of the directors. The present number of directors (five) will be increased to eighteen, and the board as then constituted, will be representative of the entire state. There will be a large advisory committee consisting of men prominent in the various trades and interests allied to real estate. Advantage will be taken by the officers and directors of the expert knowledge possessed by members of this advisory committee, to whom the important questions affecting the various interests comprised in the organization, will be referred.

An office has been opened on the fifteenth floor of the Broad Exchange Building, 25 Broad st, Manhattan, which will be the state headquarters, and an active canvass will be undertaken for the purpose of securing a large membership from all sections of the state. The time seems to be opportune for this movement. There is a strong feeling throughout the state that there should be some permanent organization representing real estate interests which will be ready and able to meet such an emergency as arose last spring. It is impossible to state fully the effects of the Mortgage Tax Law or whether it will yield as much revenue as its supporters anticipated. There seems, however, to be no doubt that the rate of interest on mortgages has gone up, and there is no present prospect of any reduction thereof. This condition of affairs does not seem so much to affect brokers (except those actively engaged in the investment of money), as borrowers and lenders, the former of whom are strong in their denunciation of it, and the latter are grumbling over the burdens imposed upon them as owners of mortgages. A large number of inquiries have already been received as to the requirements for membership. Any resident of this state interested in the objects of this association is eligible to membership, and application therefor may be made to the secretary. Membership dues are five dollars.

Grand Central Depot Work.

The new permanent building at the Grand Central Depot will have exterior walls of stone. This announcement was officially made this week, but it was stated at the time that the particular kind of stone had not yet been thought of.

Generally speaking, the plans for the main building are in an indefinite state, and the nature of many important divisions of the work have not yet been settled, let alone being planned. Bids for more of the preliminary work will be advertised for in September. Warren & Wetmore, 3 East 33d st, associated with Reed & Stem, 7 East 42d st, are the architects. R. P. Bolton, 35 Nassau st, is consulting engineer in charge of heating, sanitary work and power equipment.

Telephone Investigation.

The report of the Merchants' Association, giving the result of its inquiry into the rates and service of the New York Telephone Company, presents to the public the findings of an investigation that covers a great deal of ground. It appears that an inquiry in all American cities having a population of over 50,000 shows a wide variation in the rates charged for telephone service. Differences in the quality, range and quantity of service account for the variations. In the Borough of Manhattan 17 central stations are required. Each of these must not only provide for intercommunication between the individual stations directly attached to it (the average number being over 8,000), as in the case of a single central office in a small city, but must also provide for promot intercommunication with sixteen other central offices and over 140,000 individual stations outside its district. This connecting plant and the labor required to maintain and operate it, are not represented by any corresponding factors in a small city having but a single central office. This explains why the cost of telephone service is higher in a large than in a small city.

In the New York telephone systems improvements and changes have succeeded one another at close intervals during the entire period in which the business of telephone exchange service has existed. During the sixteen years which the investigation covers the plant has been practically rebuilt three times. The changes were necessary to keep abreast of the progress of the art. Having in view the importance to the public of constant improvement and expansion and the greatest possible efficiency of telephone service, it was the opinion of the Merchants' Association that to provide a fair return on capital actually and necessarily invested, and a proper allowance for contingencies, 10 per cent. margin above operating outlays is a reasonable and proper margin in the telephone business. This conclusion was acceded to by the New York Telephone Company. The reduction made on this basis averaged about 20 per cent. for all classes of subscribers. The report goes thoroughly into the subject of telephone competition, and after an investigation in some of the cities in which competition prevails, advises strongly against it.

A Garage Center.

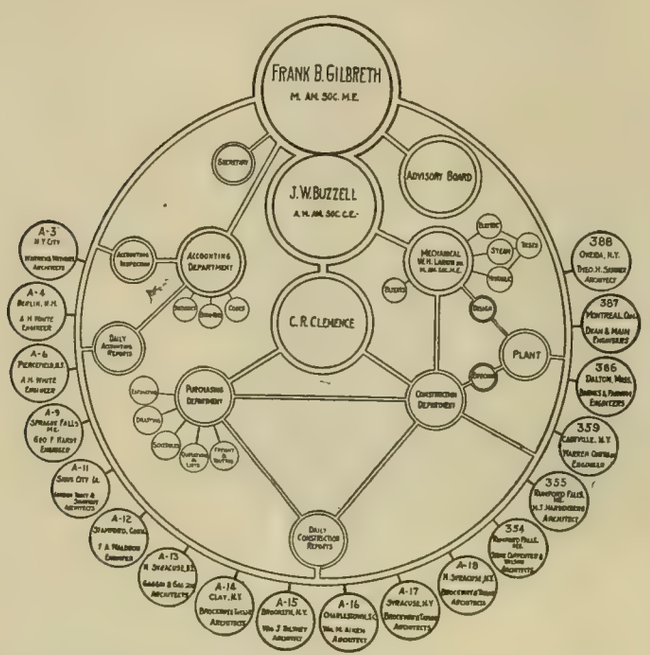
Broadway in the vicinity of Columbus Circle is throbbing with building business. On three corners of 56th st three fine building are under construction, counting the Tabernacle which is yet to be finished. The new organ is this week being put in position in the auditorium; and mechanics are working on "Pilgrim Hall," in the basement, and on the upper floors of the "skyscraper" section. On the northwest corner the Thompson-Starrett Company is going through the third story with a large automobile garage, and on the southwest corner the Church Construction Company is putting in the footings for the Standard Company's garage, which is also to be of large size. The sites were vacant for a number of years awaiting improvement. The neighborhood will be a great center for automobile interests, and a well chosen one, being close to the park entrance.



On the northeast corner of 57th st excavating has started for another garage, which is to have six stories on a ground plan of 91x54x50x110. The Auto Import Company, of 1786 Broadway, will occupy the building. The site adjoining the Tabernacle, on the north, is still vacant, though plans were prepared more than a year ago for a 12-sty apartment hotel to be erected here at a cost of $1,250,000, from plans by Charles E. Park, of 110 Tremont st, Boston; and it was understood that the Commonwealth Construction Company was to do the work. George Ehret, who owns the vacant block front between 57th and 58th st, and 120 ft. on 58th st, had under consideration last spring a fireproof music hall for the site, but the project seems to be postponed for the time being.

System in Contracting.

The application of modern industrial organization to contracting has always been regarded as impracticable. It has been accepted as axiomatic that a perfected duplicate part system could only be applied where conditions could be controlled. Frank B. Gilbreth has for years been building up his organization on the theory that a system could be devised that would be at once so strong as to eliminate confusion and divided responsibility, and so elastic that no matter how far separated the various jobs on hand, nor how widely divergent the conditions surrounding them, the system would aid instead of clog the work.

The organization chart reproduced herewith will be of interest as showing some of the details of Mr. Gilbreth's work. The large circle is known as "the contract line" and the smaller circles outside of it are the various contracts now on hand. The names in these circles are those of the architects or engineers, as the case may be, in charge of the work under whom Mr. Gilbreth's organization is executing it. Each job has its own number and is always referred to by that. Regarding the numbering system, the A in front of the number indicates that this contract was awarded in New York; the number without the letter shows the contract to have been received in Boston.

The crucial point in the system is the method of connection between the various jobs and the home office. This connection is maintained through the daily construction and daily accounting reports. The superintendent of each job is required to submit his report of the condition of the work each night. These reports are comprehensive in detail and furnish to the construction department and the purchasing department the necessary data upon which these departments keep the jobs running smoothly.

The daily construction reports which are imperatively demanded of each superintendent furnish the home office with a graphic picture of the exact condition of the various jobs. The reports contain all the information needed for the construction department to keep the jobs running smoothly. The question of the best disposition of labor, material and plant are carefully covered. Furthermore, the report must keep the purchasing department advised exactly of what and when the materials are needed. If the superintendent makes his report properly he is, therefore, not accountable if delay occurs through lack of material. This part of the system is very carefully planned and the purchasing department, with its various sub-departments, is required to keep the material on the job ahead of the superintendent's needs. If any delay occurs, it is, therefore, easy to place the responsibility, as it rests either on the superintendent for not supplying the information as regards his wants, in time, or on the purchasing department for not meeting those wants. The question of blame, therefore, becomes merely a matter of investigating the written records.

In this connection it may be well to say a few words about the organization of the purchasing department and especially of two of its sub-departments. The Quotation and the List departments maintain an up-to-date list of the various class of material which may be required and the place where such material is in stock. When a contract is secured in a new territory these departments immediately get in touch with the various supply men in that vicinity, and a careful list is at once prepared and kept constantly revised of the stocks on hand in these stores. Thus, the purchasing department has at its command the supplies of its regular supply dealers in the larger cities and also the supplies of the dealers in the immediate territory of the work on hand.

The daily accounting reports supply the accounting department with data by which it can keep the various owners advised as to exactly the cost of the work so far prepared. This department is able to keep its records up to within 24 hours, except, of course, in cases where the distance from the home office precludes the possibility of mail advices in that time. The value of this feature of the organization cannot be over-estimated to contractors who work on the cost-plus-fixed-sum basis. In order to check the accuracy of these, an accounting and inspection department is maintained with travelling inspectors, who travel from job to job, checking up the reports of the various superintendents. The plant under the supervision of the mechanical department, through its designing rooms, and the construction department through erection is, of course, directly in touch with the work and is subject to information from any of the job superintendents.

It may be noted that the "contract line" runs direct to Mr. Gilbreth. He can thus communicate with the various superintendents, who can report direct to him, but Mr. Gilbreth travels constantly, thus keeping in touch personally with the various pieces of work on hand. It may be said in conclusion that beside the general organization chart as shown herewith, each contract has a chart specially prepared to meet the existing conditions.

Obituary Note.

The announcement of the death of Mr. George C. Currier was received with great regret in the business world, especially in building circles, in which for many years he had large interests.

His business career started here in 1867. He became identified with the Bradley & Currier Company and the E. Bradley Currier Company, of which at his death he was vice-president, treasurer, and director. Other corporate concerns in which he was interested were the Electric Fireproofing Company and the Hudson River Lumber and Wood Working Company, of which he was president, and the Excelsior Savings Bank, of which he was trustee.

The Bradley & Currier Company, of 119 West 23d st, is a leading dealer in mantels, marbles, mosaics, fireplace fixtures, and tile. The concern, under different names, was also largely engaged in fine wood work, for a long period, and until three years ago. Mr. Currier, however, continued his connection with that trade through another company, and he was also largely interested in fireproofed wood.

He was very successful in all his business undertakings. His death occurred at the clubhouse at Lake Placid on Sunday. The body was brought home and buried on Wednesday from his residence, 5 West 81st st, the interment being at Woodlawn. Mr. Currier was born on Dec. 4, 1837, at Hallowell, Me., was educated at Laconia, N. H., and saw active service with the 44th Massachusetts Regiment in the war of the rebellion. He was an unostentatious supporter of various charitable institutions. Mr. Currier leaves a widow, a son, Edwin, and daughter, and grandchildren.

Losing Work Through New Material.

That bricklayers, plasterers and masons have reviewed with disfavor the growing popularity of cement in various combinations as a building material throughout the country, is well known. Common labor is largely employed in manufacturing cement building blocks, and in building with these loss of work results to the masons' trade. The union would, if it were possible to do it effectively, encourage the use of brick and stone rather than cement blocks in building.

In building foundations with cement almost all of the work is done by laborers. Carpenters build frames as molds for the foundations, and the laborers under the direction of a foreman mix the cement and pour it into the frames. In these the cement hardens and becomes the foundation for the building.

The bricklayers', plasterers' and masons' unions also view askance the use of a single-coat plaster, a patented plaster that is preferred by some to the old process. It is necessary to put but one coat of this plaster on to obtain a finished surface, which, it is presumed, saves time and expense. It is a cement plaster. According to the old process a first coat was put on the wall to be plastered, and after it had dried a surface coat, the "putty coat" was added.

Advance in Spruce.

The basic price of spruce was advanced $1 August 8 by the West Virginia Manufacturers. This makes the price of 8x8 and under, New York delivery, $21.50; 9, 10 and 12-inch $23. This is, on the usual basis of twenty-foot lengths and under.

New England is $1.25 above these prices and New Jersey the same. Perhaps a more striking feature is the change in the charge for lengths over twenty feet. This charge has been advanced to $1 for every two feet over twenty feet, whereas it used to be fifty cents. This was done because the long stuff did not pay the manufacturers at the price, and the former differential made it an inducement for the dealers to run their orders largely to long lengths.

The Terminal Station at the Williamsburg Bridge.

The proposed terminal station building at the Manhattan end of the Williamsburg Bridge will have foundations only slightly below the present street level. It will probably be built of steel and concrete; the alternative is a skeleton frame covered with copper. The ground floor will be a sort of arcade with the sides and ends open; Clinton st and Suffolk st will remain unobstructed to ordinary street traffic, the cars of the New York City Railway Company passing through the space covered by the building with perfect freedom, and the only occupancy of this space by the building itself being for foundation columns for ample stairways and possibly elevators for entrance to and exit from the cars and trains on the upper floors, and certain platform spaces to provide for the separation and shelter of passengers wishing transfers to the surface cars of the New York City Railway Company.

The second floor will provide space for eight trolley car loops spaced about 40 feet apart, each loop having separate stairways to and from the street, to provide adequate space for the separation of passengers and their convenient passage to and from the cars. The third floor will provide for an elevated railway terminal station of greater capacity as to tracks and platforms than the City Hall station of the Manhattan Railway Company, and sufficient for many years for the traffic likely to be brought over the Broadway elevated railroad in Brooklyn.

In such a terminal station more passengers can be handled, Commissioner Best believes, with greater ease, comfort and safety from the trolley cars, and nearly half as many passengers can be handled from the elevated railway cars as are handled at the Manhattan terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge.

The plans for the building are now undergoing some modifications, made necessary by an enlargement of the site. It is the wish of the Bridge Commissioner that the building should not be mistaken for a permanent structure, as the elevated trains from Brooklyn must at no distant date be run into subways in Manhattan considerably distant from the bridge, and then there will be no need for this station. The estimated cost is $800,000.

The civic organizations of this borough are strongly opposed to providing at this place anything more than temporary relief. They regard the bridge as a highway, and are opposed to the Best plan because the massive construction and the great expense stamp the plan as creating a permanent instead of a temporary terminal.

BUILDING NOTES

The Drexel Building at Wall and Broad sts has been sandblasted, and looks like new. There's a story about it elsewhere in this paper.

The ninth annual convention of the National Founders' Association will be held in New York on Wednesday and Thursday, November 15 and 16, 1905.

Commodore Frederick G. Bourne, owner of Indian Neck Hall, at Oakdale, L. I., is having built on Rocky Island, one of the Thousand Islands, a villa costing $400,000.

F. W. Seagrist, Jr., Co. and C. H. Southard are taking down the buildings on the site of the new Plaza Hotel. A large amount of second-hand material is thus being thrown on the market.

A good tonnage is being booked by structural steel mills for delivery next spring, as buyers are becoming discouraged in efforts to secure materials in time for erection before cold weather.

Charles M. Schwab sailed for Germany August 15, accompanied by Archibald Johnston, an engineer, and one of the directors of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. Mr. Schwab is trying to get some big business.

Charles E. Duston & Co., of 11 Broadway, are moving their plant from Orangeburgh, N. J., to Jersey City, as they have secured the large works formerly occupied by the Spiral Rivet Tube Company, Fisk and Melory avs, Jersey City.

A weight of thousands of tons of limestone slid from the side of the quarry of Mill "A," of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co., at Ormrod, Pennsylvania, on Wednesday last, killing twelve men and injuring six others. The Lehigh company will have the sympathy of the trade in this sad affair.

At the office of Messrs. Clinton & Russell, architects, 32 Nassau st, it was learned this week that work on the new 20-sty apartment hotel, to be erected at Broadway and West End av, for William Waldrof Astor, will not be commenced for some time yet. Plans have been completed. (See Record and Guide, July 8, 1905.)

The Promethus Electric Co., of 39 Cortlandt st, make an electric iron which is especially adapted to the use of architects and builders for flattening out prints and tracings which have been rolled up for a long time and therefore hard to manage. Messrs. Clinton & Russell and other well-known architects find these irons very useful.

The Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity of the City has opened bids for the construction and equipment of a new pumping station at Gravesend. Twenty-six bidders submitted bids for the equipment work and five for the construction. The figures on the former item have not been tabulated as yet, but Ryan & McFarren, of 166 East 23d st, submitted the lowest bid for the construction, which was $22,730, and was $4,000 lower than that of the next lower bidder.

An amount of repair work and alterations exceeding all records is going on throughout the city. There is work on every hand, and many deserving young mechanics have found this a good season to start in business on their own account. Since the first of January permits for nearly ten million dollars' worth of alterations have been issued in Manhattan and the Bronx, and for over three million dollars' worth in Brooklyn. In this borough a great many alterations have been caused by the enforcement of the sanitary plumbing provisions of the tenement house law.

The New York Central Railroad will spend a lot of money in removing grade crossings between New York and Croton, and eventually all along its lines. The money will come back in the form of wages of flagmen saved in the course of years. Wagon roads will have to cross either over or under the railroad, requiring the building of many concrete abutments. It is expected that the work within the electric zone, and a little more, will be done in two years. Plans were submitted to the State Railroad Commissioners on Thursday, as the State will pay one-fourth of the expense, cities and towns one-fourth, and the railroad company one half.

The New York Central R. R. Company is preparing to enlarge its machine shops at some points, and plans have been filed with the Bronx Building Department for several structures to be erected in the company's grounds at Sedgwick av, High Bridge, including a one-story frame electric locomotive shop 24x176 ft., a roundhouse, to cost $24,000, a sand house, shops and an office building. These structures are to be erected to be used in connection with the electric service. In addition to that the company will erect a two-story brick power station on its property at 153d st and Sheridan av, New York. The station will be 61x242 ft. in size and will cost about $58,000.

It was learned this week at the office of Messrs. McKim. Mead & White, architects for the new Pennsylvania Railroad terminal, to occupy the block bounded by 7th and 9th avs, 31st and 33d sts, that bids on the general contract will not be asked for at least six or eight months to come. The only contracts so far awarded by them is for granite (Milford Pink) and cut stone work, which was let last April, to Norcross Bros., of 160 5th av. The structural steel and all iron work is in the hands of Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co., of 10 Bridge st. Mr. J. H. O'Brien, chief engineer for the firm, has entire charge of this work, and the awarding of sub-contracts, none of which have yet been given out.

Study of Interior Decoration.

The Museum of the Arts of Decoration, in Cooper Union, represents an important department of work that is allied to building and real estate—house decoration. The number of visitors to the museum, while still small, has increased from 2,681 in 1903-1904 to 5,452 in 1904-1905, while 170 workers and 3,731 students have practically used the museum as a working studio.

"Since January 1," writes Miss Hewitt in the Forty-sixth Annual Report of Cooper Union, "four outside schools have sent classes regularly, with masters, to study from the actual objects.

"These schools are: The New York School of Applied Design for Women, Thursday afternoons. The School of Decorative and Applied Art, Wednesday or Friday afternoons, and working on other days. The Newark Technical School, Monday evening. The Young Men's Christian Association, Class in House-Furnishing and Interior Decoration, one Thursday and two Friday evenings, with a professor giving an ambulant lecture on style, illustrating it by the objects. The same schools have applied for regular days and hours for the school year or 1905-1906, the School of Decorative andd Applied Art, bringing a second class from Brooklyn.

Gradually but surely the sympathies of the wealthy for art are being broadened from a fancy for oil paintings and statuary merely into other forms of art having to do with the decoration of the home. Architecture, mural painting, furniture, tapestries, ornamental plaster, and color designs, are all destined to receive more attention as the study of beautiful things becomes more and more popularized in a way, and the ability to gratify cultivated tastes increases.

Work on Long Island Ferry House.

The Long Island Railroad Company, 128 Broadway, has torn down the sheds that covered its ferry slips at the foot of East 34th st, New York, and the Edward B. Jenks Co., dock builders, 143 Liberty st, have the general contract to build the four ferry slips and bridges, which will occupy two blocks between East 33d and 35th sts. Upon the completion of this, a fine ferry building will be built to cover the entire frontage. The new building will face westwardly toward 34th st, and measure 400x170 ft. There will be three spaces for cabs 45 ft. in width. The bridges will be the finest and most substantial of any in use in the world. They will be raised and lowered by electricity, and will not be operated by the tide by means of floats as at present. The company will run seven ferry boats on five-minute headway. The elevated railroad platform and stairways will remain as at present. The work is estimated to exceed $300,000.

The Largest Steam Turbines.

The Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company has recently closed contracts with the Westinghouse companies, Pittsburg, Pa., for two 7,500-kilowatt turbine-type generating units for extending its present powerhouse equipment in Brooklyn. These units, it is said, will be the largest generating units of the turbine type in the world. With the guaranteed overload capacity of 50 per cent. above rating, the turbines will thus be capable of developing 16,000 brake horsepower and about 10,500 brake horsepower on normal load. The turbines will operate on dry steam at 175 pounds pressure and a vacuum of about 28 inches. Three-phase, 25-cycle current will be generated directly at 11,000 volts for distribution to the line.

It is of interest in this connection that the second and third largest turbine generating units in the world are also of the Parson type, the former built abroad and the latter by the Westinghouse companies at Pittsburg. The Brooklyn Heights contract is especially significant from the fact that the company had already contracted about a year ago for a Westinghouse-Parsons turbine unit of the largest capacity then built—5,500 kilowatts. The building of the new machine will mark an important step in the development of power-station apparatus.

Description of New Bridge Terminal.

Commissioner Best has furnished the following succinct particulars of the new and larger terminal, in Manhattan, for the Brooklyn Bridge, condemnation proceedings for which have been resumed: (1) A basement below the street level into which the loops for trolley lines in the present station may be transferred for the safer and more convenient disposition of passengers to and from cars. (2) A first floor on the ground level which will provide within street lines for waiting and assembly spaces for the use of passengers going to and from the cars over the bridge, and will be arranged so that Chambers st and certain other crossings may permit free passage of street travel through and under the building. (3) A second or gallery floor about the level of the mezzanine floor of the present station which will provide for the distribution of passengers coming from the street, or from the elevated railroads in Park Row as well as those which cross the bridge. (4) A third or track floor providing for the distribution of tracks and platforms for the trains crossing the bridge on what are known as the bridge or elevated railroad tracks. This floor will be the main station floor and have a great height, in order to provide adequate light, air and ventilation. The new station will provide the same number of loops as are now used in the present terminal, eight new landing points for bridge railway trains, and will permit the handling of about twice as many trains at this station as is now possible.

The Corporation Counsel will again apply to the Supreme Court on August 25 for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Appraisal. The most important properties to be taken are the block in which the Staats Zeitung stands, and most of which is owned by Sire Brothers. Their associates are said to be William F. Sheehan and T. D. Sullivan.

The Second City in the World.

The incomplete census figures indicate that the population of New York is now just under 4,000,000, or, to be somewhat more exact, 3,987,154. The probabilities are that Manhattan and the Bronx alone will be found to have a population of 2,378,696.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

The Local Board for Washington Heights recommends that Seventh av be parked in the upper part. It is a good idea for all avenues of sufficient width, and very many streets uptown could just as well as not be ornamented with shade trees on either side.

Edgar T. Kingsley was the broker in the sale for the Butler H. Bixby estate to Osk & Edelstein, of the vacant plot on the south side of 119th st, 175 ft. west of Morningside Park West, size 125x100.11, reported in our last issue. Osk & Edelstein were the buyers.

The McVickar, Gaillard Realty Co. have leased the following: 130 West 58th st, for Mrs. Chas. Bratten, to Dr. Walter C. Klotz; 48 West 38th st, for Joseph Earle Stevens, to Dr. William G. Iselin; 350 Madison av, for Thos. B. Hidden, to Miss Mary Betts; 12 East 44th st, for Thos. B. Hidden, to Miss H. E. Dalton; 57 West 50th st, for the estate of Myer Eiseman, to Dr. C. E. Gilbert; 48 West 49th st, for J. Smith Rice, to Mrs. M. C. Tilean; and 114 East 21st st, for Mrs. Ally, to George Waddington.

Mapping Queens Borough.

The map of the western half of the town of Jamaica from Van Wyck av, the western boundary of the old village of Jamaica, to the Brooklyn line, and north of Liberty av, has been filed with the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The field work on all the northerly and easterly portions of the town of Newtown is now completed and the maps will be prepared at an early date.

The maps of the Ridegwood or East Williamsburgh and Maspeth section have already been adopted as a part of the official map of the city of New York and the whole territory, comprising over 5,000 acres, is being monumented as rapidly as possible. Eight parties are at work in the territory and over 500 monuments have been set. It will take about 1,000 more to complete the work.

The proceedings for street openings in Ridgewood have already been started, commissioners having been appointed for several of the streets.

Several field parties are now working on the southern half of Flushing town and the northern section of Jamaica north of the old village of Jamaica, the sections being contiguous.

Work has started at asphalting Broadway, Flushing, from Bowne av to Murray lane, about three-fourths of a mile.

In Long Island City, Ditmars av is being asphalted between Steinway and Purdy avs, and six new streets north of Jackson av and east of Van Alst are being graded, curbed, guttered, asphalted and sidewalks flagged all the way north to and across Flushing av, at a cost of $10,000. This will open up a fine new section of Long Island City and result in an extension of the first class residence district on the high ground in the Dutch Kills and Astoria section.

Activity in Queens Farms.

The O'Connor farm of sixty-three acres on the Jamaica rd at Flushing has been sold to a Waterbury, Conn., syndicate for $1,000 an acre, or $63,000. Two acres are being retained with the homestead.

The same syndicate bought the Schumacher farm of forty-seven acres at the same price, $1,000 per acre, total $47,000. This farm is located on both sides of the Ireland Mills or North Hempstead rd.

A third purchase by the same syndicate was also recorded. It was that of the Fowler farm, Trains Meadow rd and Jackson av, consisting of fourteen acres. The price paid was $3,000 per acre, which is three times what was asked two years ago.

The "Star" hears on fairly good authority that the Wirsching farm of twenty-four acres on Woodside av has passed into new hands at a figure somewhere around $80,000.

The Alexander Stevens farm at Woodside has been purchased by a Massachusetts syndicate. The farm is twenty-two acres in extent and the price paid is said to be about $2,000 an acre.

The Frank Fitterer farm on the Trains Meadow rd has been purchased by two capitalists. The farm is ten and two-thirds acres in extent and is directly in the path of the New York Connecting Railway. The price paid was $25,000.

—The suit of Architect Buffington, of Minneapolis, against the "Sixty Wall Street" corporation, concerning which nothing has been heard for several months, is still pending. The building, which has recently been completed from plans of Clinton & Russell, was selected by Mr. Buffington, the patentee of the modern system of steel skeleton construction, as the subject for a suit to recover damages for infringing his patent. It is a remarkable structure in many respects; one is in height (346 ft.) wherein it is exceeded only by the new Times Building. Insurance men have been attracted to the building by the excellent precautions against fire. The vertical fire hazard has been especially well dealt with. The elevators face a short common hall. This is cut off at each end by swinging doors, glazed with polished wireglass. Complete immunity is thus secured from possible smoke and flame coming up the elevator shafts, and without any subtraction of light. Similar doors give access to the stairway, which is enclosed in a separate brick cut-off. Wireglass is used in all windows below the ninth.

—The new section of the Metropolitan Building, which fronts on Fourth av, has been open to tenants about one year, and is now very fully occupied, the agent reports. Space rents for $1 a sq. foot above the ground floor. On this first floor is a beautiful marble arcade, with mercantile shops on either side, and extending the whole great length of the building. It is interesting to observe that a large number of firms in building materials have congregated here, among them a number of lumber firms who were previously at No. 18 Broadway.

—V. J. Hedden & Sons Co., 1 Madison av, is taking figures and preparing to start on work for addition to Metropolitan Life Insurance Building, to be erected at 4th av and 24th st. N. Le Brun & Sons, 1 Madison av, are architects.; A. R. Wolff, 130 Fulton st, is steam engineer, and C. O. Mailloux, 76 William st, is electrical engineer.

FREE LIGHTERAGE LIMITS.

Some changes have been agreed upon by the railroads for free lighterage limits in New York Harbor and same are now effective. To every railroad with a terminus in New York the new free lighterage limits apply. There are two important changes.

On the New Jersey side the northernmost free lighterage limit is Fort Lee, instead of Edgewater as formerly. In South Brooklyn, the lighterage limits have been extended from 66th to 69th sts, Bay Ridge. Other changes which may possibly have been under discussion were not made.

As regards the specific schedule of charges for towing to points beyond free lighterage limits, there have been no changes except that the following respective charges to points named have been added to the list of specific towing charges beyond lighterage limits:

To or from Arlington, S. I., $10.

To or from Lawrence Point, $15.

To or from any point on the New Jersey shore, south of Av C, Bayonne City, to and including neck at Bergen Point, $7.

To or from any point on the east shore of Newark Bay, beyond neck at Bergen Point to the Central Railroad of New Jersey Maine Line Bridge, $10.

The Worden Bros. Monument Manufacturing Co., of Batavia, N Y., has purchased of the First National Bank of Montpelier, the quarries formerly owned by T. W. Eagan and the Capital Granite Co.
